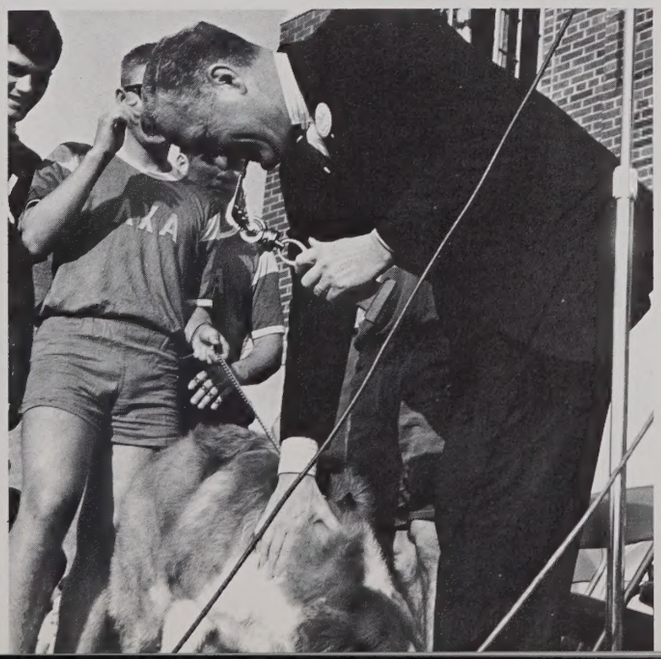
President Alan Rankin, appointed in the Spring of 1965, led ISU through its first full year as a university. Rankin not only directed the administrative departments of the school, but also became a part of the campus activities.



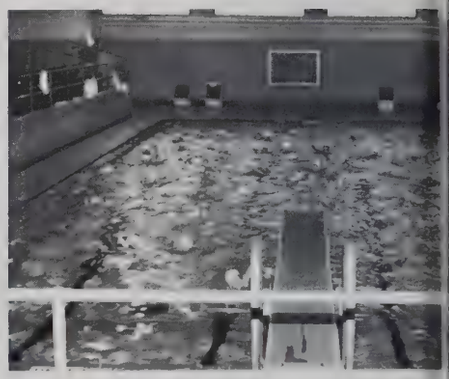
Freshmen orientation week introduced all aspects of university life to incoming students, from the academic necessity of testing to the social appeal to the fraternity-sorority "Freshmen Sing."

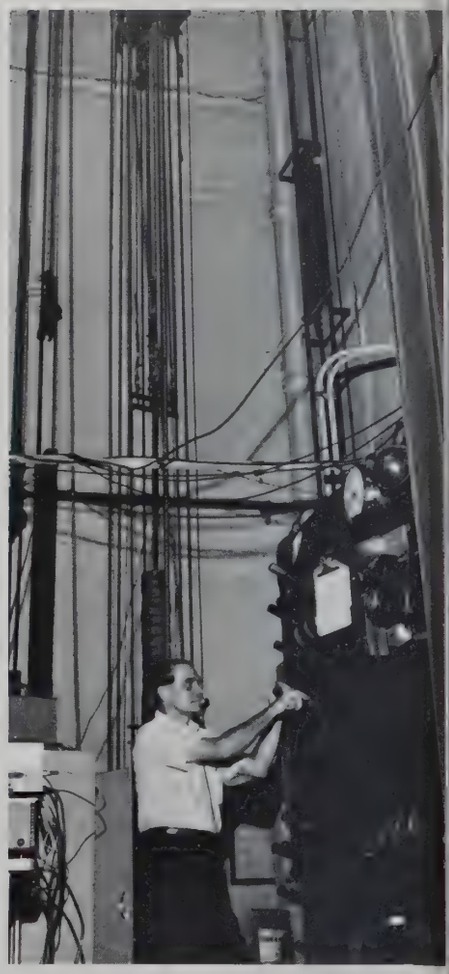
Betsey Wood and Liz Jones, co-chairmen of Freshman orientation, introduced the ISU campus to the incoming students.

Supposed "automation" of the IBM cards at registration caused inevitable confusion.

Settling down to the routine of classes caused problems for those who were used to lazy summer days. And adjustments were made to the ever growing population on the campus.

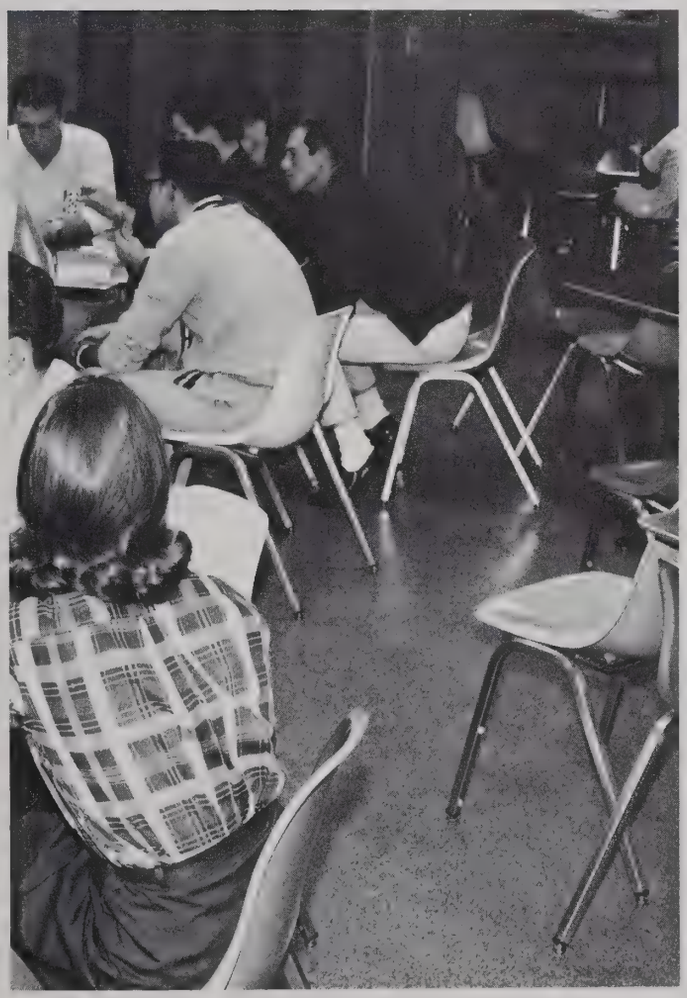
Married couples enjoyed the new married housing facilities built by the school, while single, campus-dwellers learned to live in togetherness, too.





The Tirey Memorial Union building was the center of campus activity. Meeting rooms, formal lounges, and grill, pool, and cafeteria gave everyone some place to feel a part of his university and his Union.

Desk students added professional appeal and a helpful approach to the Union activities.



Campus Carnival exhibited a bit of the fun side of the campus with entertaining booths, a talent show of folk-singing, and an opening dance sponsored by the Union Board.

Carolyn Willis, chairman of Campus Carnival, produced an authentic carnival atmosphere.

Rod Bradfield, campus folk-singer, provided an intellectually stimulating musical program.

Connie Browder chairman of Homecoming, presented both the old and new.

Indiana State graduates came to their first Homecoming as university alumni with the 49th annual event. The weekend brought the Brothers Four, Friday night pep rally and bonfire, and a lovely queen, Miss Carol Blevins.

All campus groups supported the tricycle derby teams as they roared around the quad.

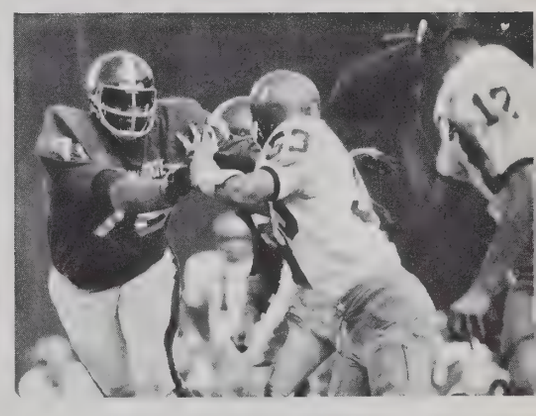
First of the hopefully traditional bonfires added enthusiasm.

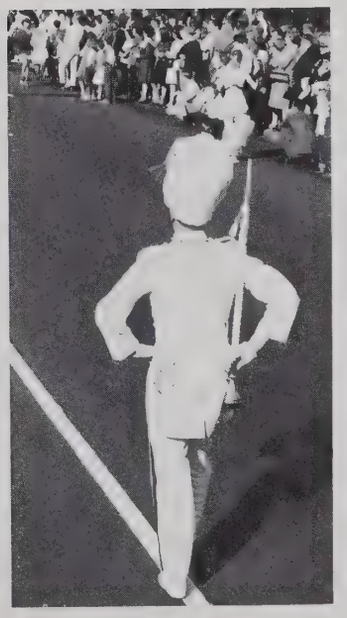
The Brothers Four sparked campus with their wit and talent.

The colorful Alpha Tau Omega float won first place in the fraternity division.

Bands and floats welcomed alumni back to ISU as the Homecoming parade got under way. Winning floats, Gillum Hall, Alpha Tau Omega, and Gamma Phi Beta, took the honors. And all was climaxed that afternoon by the fighting Sycamores, who chalked up another Homecoming victory over the Valparaiso Crusaders.

Gamma Phi Beta stood on top as sweepstakes winner.





Sorority Rush culminated with a walk through the grill.

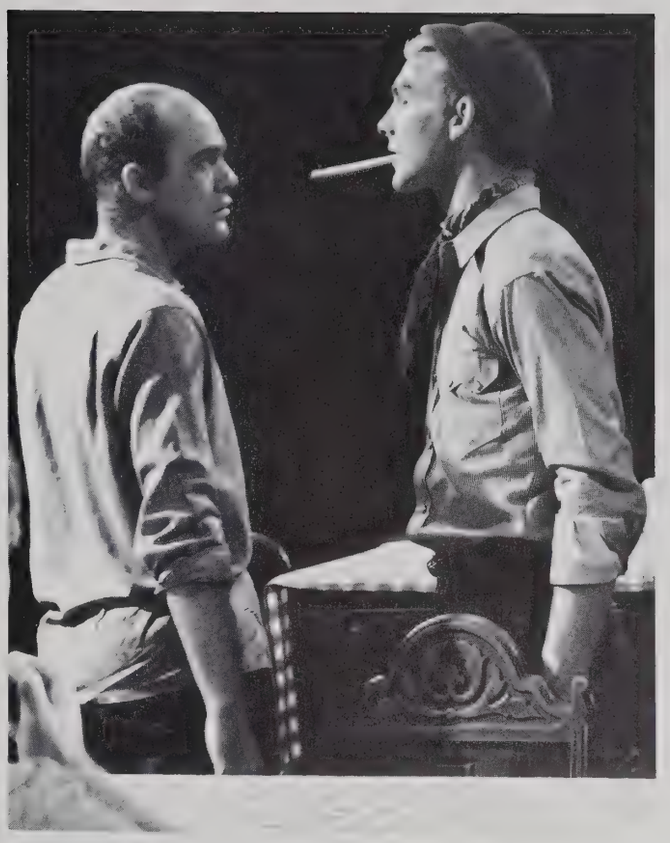
A similar walk through the grill was experienced by fraternity pledges with co-eds lining the grill with approving eyes.

Sorority and fraternity Rush was one of the most involved times of the year with anticipation, frustration, joy, and disappointment confronting rushees, and, likewise, each member of the Greek organizations.

Sorority Rush was more formal than fraternity Rush with organized parties for each rushee to attend.

The summer theater at ISU proved to be one of the most entertaining and stimulating in the history of the theater. In a few short weeks, the summer crew produced three plays in a "theater in the round" style at Hulman Center.

The theater crew did a beautiful job with Shakespeare's, "As You Like It."



An active theater participant, Jon Jones, starred in "The Rainmaker."

The second in the series of the summer productions was "Ladies of the Jury."

A satirical play on the persecution of the Christians, "Androcles and the Lion" was a most entertaining theater production.

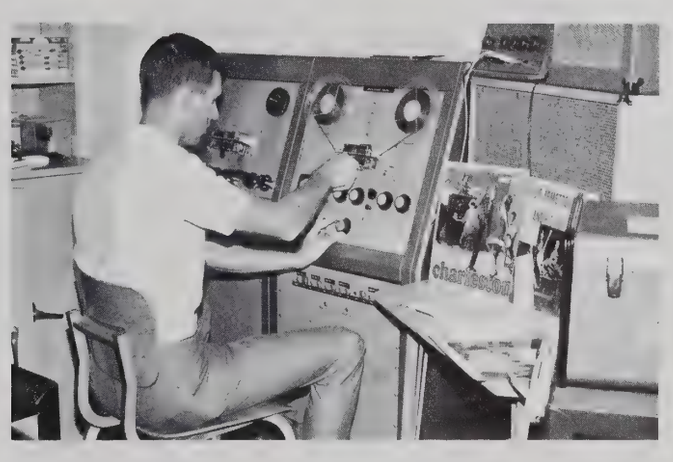
After a very successful summer theater series, the fall and spring series continued to rise to even greater heights in the the professional appeal of the theater at ISU. "Mary, Mary" was a most successful beginner of the series followed by "Androcles and the Lion" and in the spring, "Everyman"

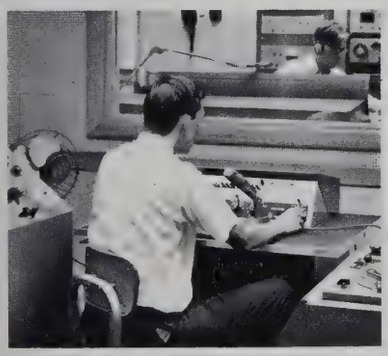
Jerry Walker and Linda Woolsey starred in "Mary, Mary" as it was one of the most successful audience appealers and theater openers.

The effectiveness of the AV department depended on the editing of film.

Another department of the AV Center was concerned with the drawing and croping process.

The Dark Room was constantly in use.

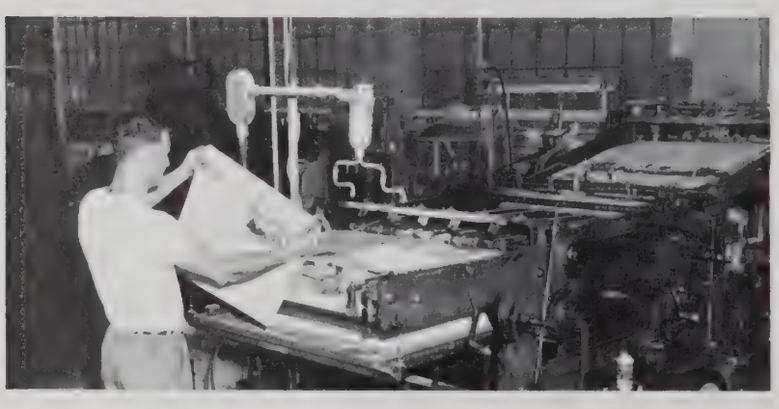




The Audio Visual Center dealt with the taping of various events, making posters and films. WISU, campus radio station, was run by the students for their entertainment.

The STATESMAN not only covered campus news, but added to its depth as a college newspaper by using the stories from the AP wire.

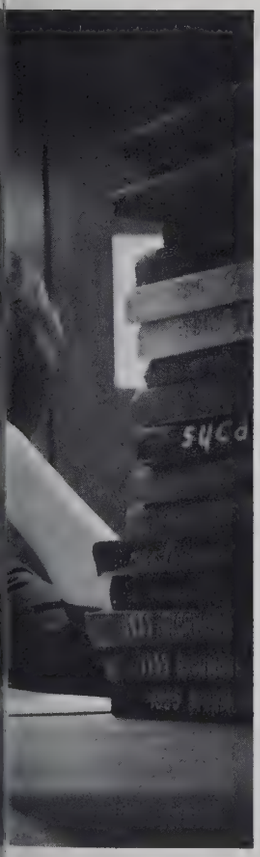
Bob Watson served as editor of the 1965 STATESMAN.

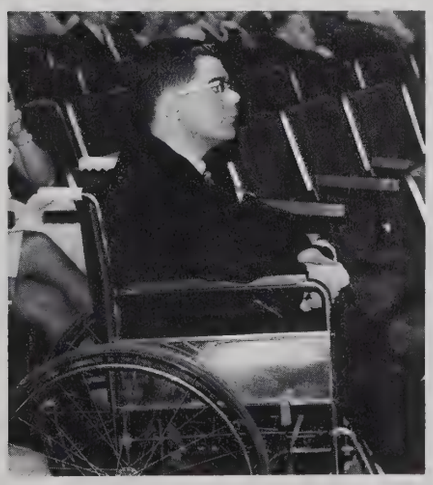


Two of the most active but pressed staffs on the campus were the STATESMAN and SYCAMORE staffs. With the campus newspaper coming out twice weekly, many deadlines had to be met with enthusiasm and initiative. With the same goals, the SYCAMORE staff worked with much diligence.

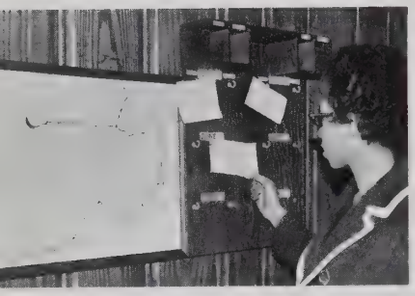
Editor for the 1965-66 SYCAMORE was Cathy Parker.

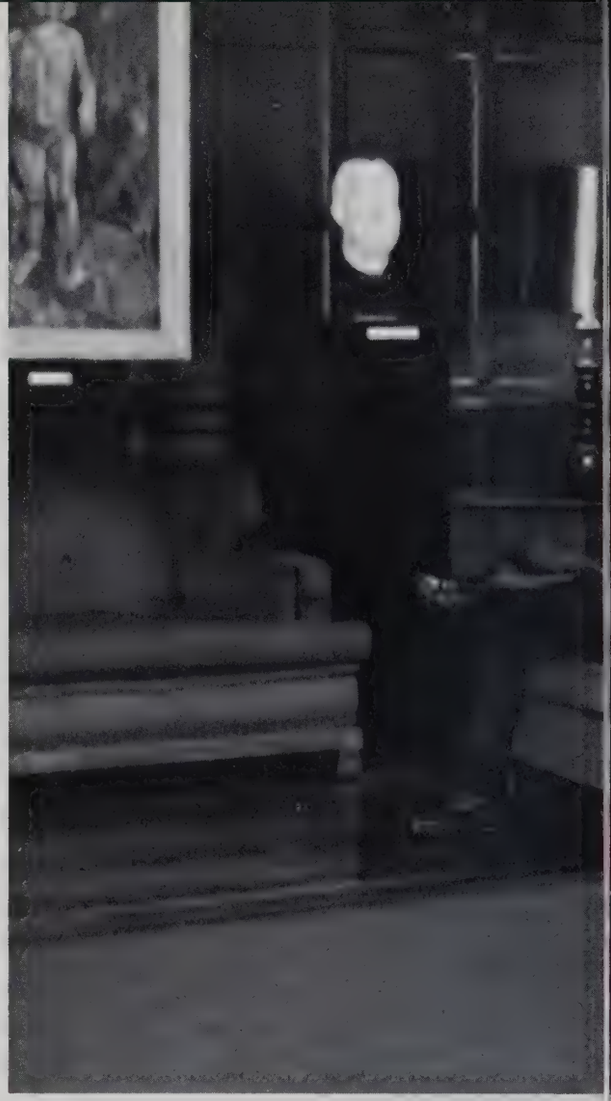
Much organization was needed in the compiling and producing of the yearbook, and the 1966 staff worked very hard.

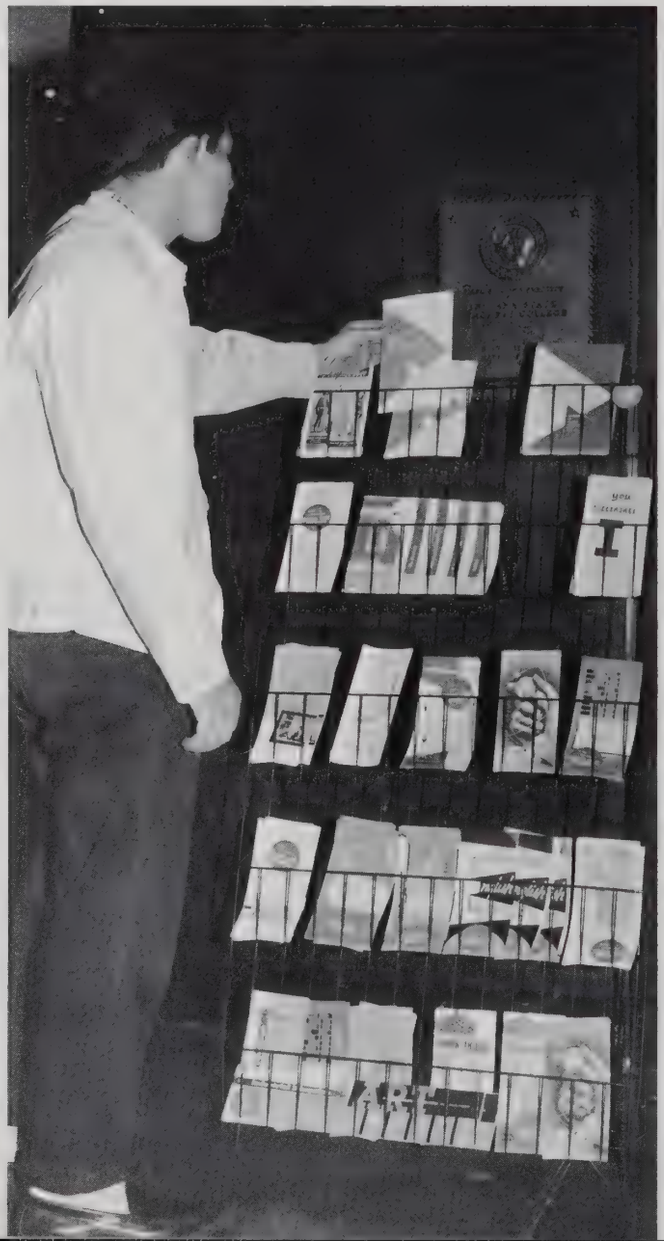




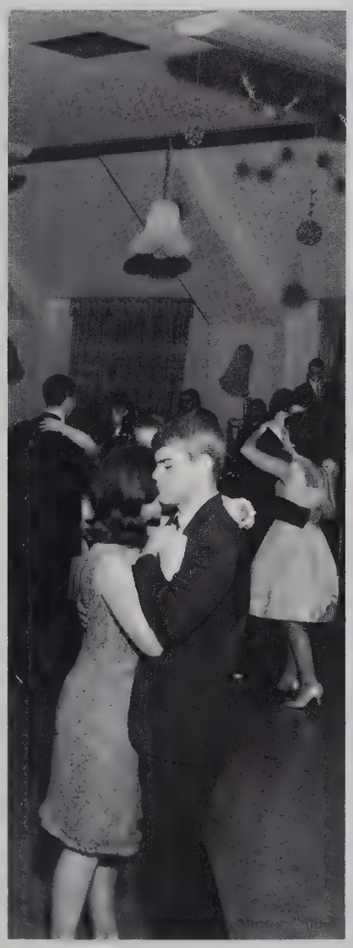
The Tirey Memorial Union provided the campus and community with many services and exhibits throughout the year.

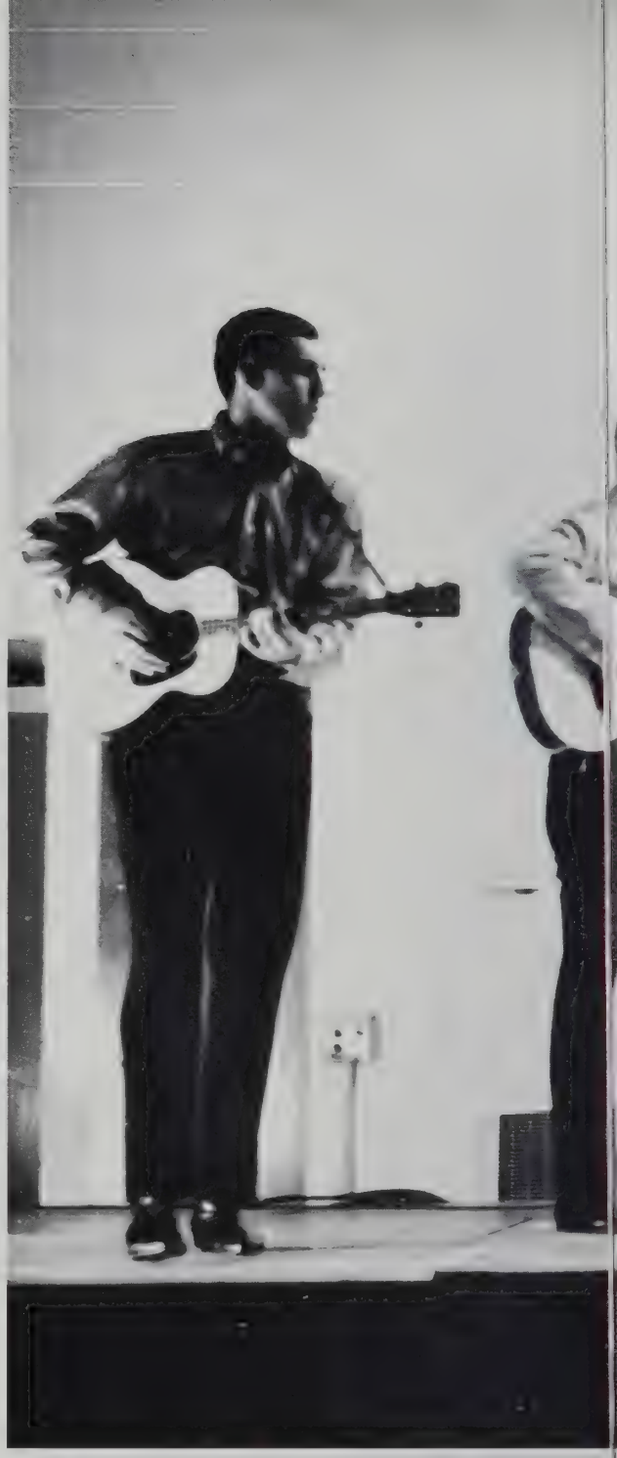






The festive occasion of the Christmas season was a favorite on the campus of ISU. The first Christmas Tree Lighting, the annual Madrigal Dinner, and the Christmas Ball added to the spirit.





Through the efforts of Extended Services, departmental groups, and individual students, a wide variety of visiting artists and lectures performed on ISU's campus. Homecoming brought the Brothers Four; the convocation series presented the Greek play "Antigone," the lecture series brought Robert St. John and Richard Tobin and individual students brought a popular singing group The Hot Nuts.

The visiting artists and lecturers were of wide variety with varying backgrounds. Homecoming brought the Brothers Four, Christmas brought William Warfield, Spring brought Vincent Price, and a few weeks later, Joshua Logan came to the ISU campus.

William Warfield, a baritone appeared with the Terre Haute Symphony in concert.

Vincent Price gave an interesting reading of letters entitled, "Dear Theo."

ISU professor, Mr. William Munns gave a talk on the "Theatre of the Upsurd."

Joshua Logan appeared in the convocation series speaking on the world of the theatre.

Vera Lowry, Chi Omega, was crowned as Miss Page One by Bachelor of the Year Phil Smith, Theta Chi.

A part of the Top Hat Club, Casino Royale, was a favorite spot for the mock gambling and drinking.

Co-ed bartenders had a busy time behind the bar especially with the "Bloody Marys."

Entrance to the Top Hat Club was through the "Bachelor's Quarters."

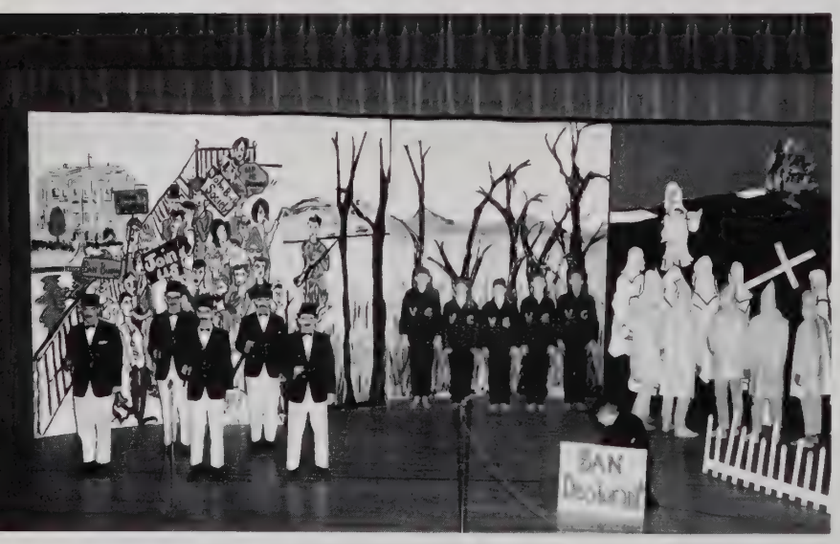
The Co-Ed Weekend, sponsored by the TMUB was one of the most successful ever. Friday night presented the Top Hat Club with the announcing of the Bachelor of the Year. The whole Union Building was turned into a night-club atmosphere with the Bachelor's Quarters, Top Hat Club, and Casino Royale. Saturday night brought the Miss Page One Ball with the Valentine-theme being carried out.

Fourteen groups participated in the 1966 Campus Revue. The skits were judged on theme, over-all effect, sets, costumes, choreography, and music. Alpha Phis won the costume award, Sigma Kappa won choreography, and the Gamma Phi Beta won best Set Design. Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Kappa took first places.

Chosen by IFC and Panhellenic Co-directors Vera Lowry and Jo Poole organized the Revue.

Exciting "Spirit of Sam" stirred audiences three nights, as Tau Kappa Epsilon performed.

Lambda Chi Alpha's satire of present-day extremists won second place.



Exquisite choreography and costumes won second place for Delta Gamma's "I Wanna Be Rich."

Revolving, triangular sets won first place in set design for Gamma Phi Beta's "Sawdust Rings".

Pi Lambda Phi, third place winner, questioned conformity in characteristics of college students in "Collegium '66".

The curtain rose fourteen times each night of March 3, 4, 5, as eight sororities and six fraternities competed in the 1966 Campus Revue. Winners in the sorority competition were Sigma Kappa, first; Delta Gamma, second; and Alpha Phi, third. Fraternity winners were Sigma Phi Epsilon, first; Lambda Chi Alpha, second; and Pi Lambda Phi, third.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's "The Wong Seed" won first place in fraternity competition.

CARE

"LET'S
WAGE PEACE!"

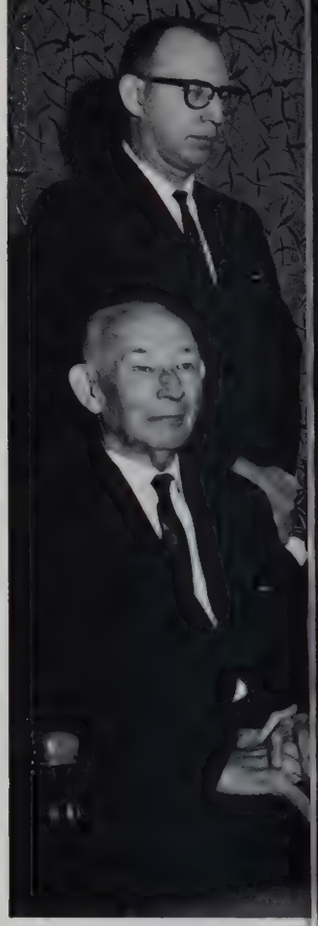
ISU students participated in charity functions on the campus and in the city too. Students worked at the Vigo County Juvenile Center, the Boys Club, and the Glenn Home. ATO's helped with the Goodwill drive and SGA sponsored an IS-Care campaign for support of the efforts in Viet Nam.

One of the traditional events at ISU, Founder's Day, was most informative and educational as students, faculty, and the community learned more about the history of the university. The "Book & Torch" ceremony took place with the final ceremony taking place at Commencement.



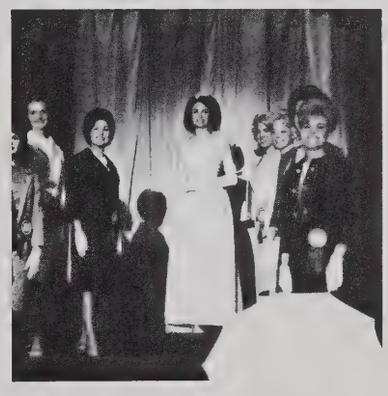
INDIA

The ending week-end of the Fine Arts Festival was filled with enjoyment for everyone. Co-chairmen, Betsey Wood and Steve Dolbow, planned the Sidewalk Cafe, Village Internationale, folk-singing on the quad, a student art exhibit, an array of artists and lecturers and the Jordon School of Ballet.

The Fine Arts Festival reached its peak while at the same time coming to an end the first week-end in May. Friday night's activities offered a jazz concert, The Mushroom Cloud nightclub, and silent movies on the quad. Saturday was filled with artists, lectures, movies, book stores, and many visits to Village Internationale with its puppet shows, booths, and German Beer Garden. The festival ended with an international movie on Saturday evening, "No Exit."

UNION BO

The 1965 Miss ISU pageant was one of the most elaborate ever with much beauty, grace, and charm being found in ISU co-eds. Ten finalists competed for the title, with 1964 Miss Indiana, Sandra Sue Miller, crowning Miss ISU. Also a winner in the talent division, Miss Suzie Black, an Evansville sophomore and a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, was chosen as the 1965 Miss ISU and as the representative to the Miss Indiana Pageant. Miss Jackie Benson, a sophomore from Veor Beach, Florida, won the swim suit competition, while Miss Carole Blevins, a sophomore from Washington, was chosen "Miss Congeniality."



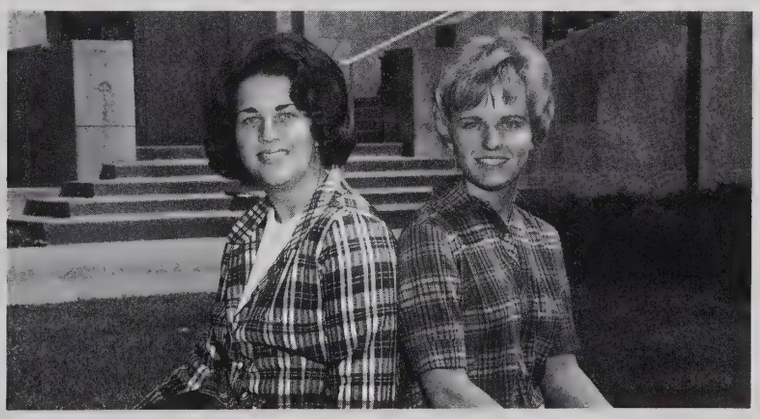
The 28th annual Songfest was dedicated to the late President Emeritus Ralph N. Tirey, the originator of the first such event on State's campus. Sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha Sonforia, nineteen groups participated with three first place winners. In the sorority division, Zeta Tau Alpha placed first; in the fraternity division, Pi Lambda Phi; and in general division, Parson's Hall placed first. Miss Judy Lewis was awarded the Ruth Hill Tirey trophy for the best director.

Well-known orchestra leader, Woody Herman, and his group provided music for the 1965 Prom.

Miss Jo Cronkite was chosen as Prom Queen.

One of the most well-planned and beautifully decorated dances ever, culminated on the evening of May 15, with the annual Junior Prom. Couples danced to music provided by Woody Herman and later watched with pride as their 1965 Prom Queen was announced. Favors were given with the first official university crest imprinted on them.

Co-chairmen of the Junior Prom were Pat Keegan and Cathy Hart.



Due to heavy rains on the day of commencement, the exercises had to be held in the Arena. It was Dr. Raleigh Holmstead's last time to perform commencement ceremonies as president of Indiana State.

SECRET

LEADERSHIP

Uniting time, resourcefulness, and a great deal of effort,
the administration and the student leaders work together functioning as the nucleus of the university. While gathering ideas and working with committees, these leaders often go unrecognized.

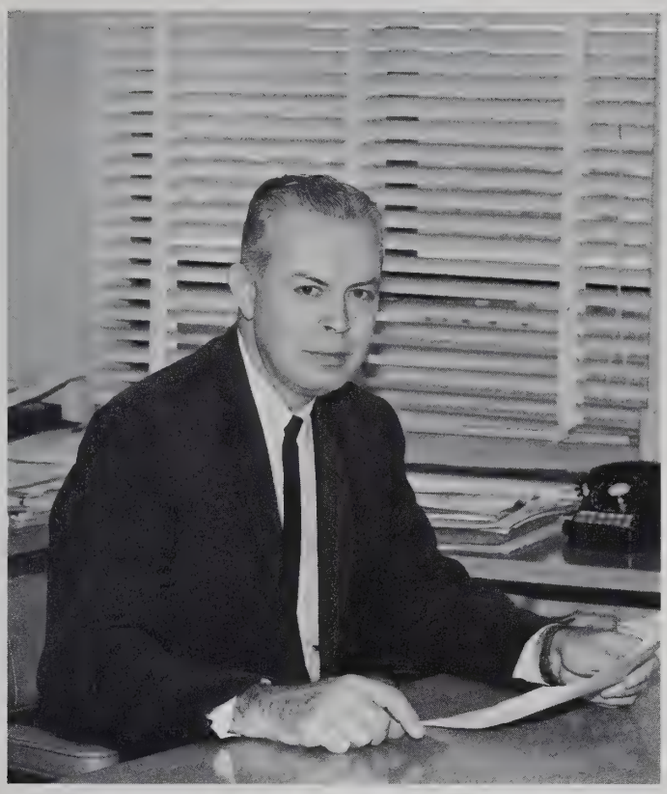
Indiana State University opened the doors to its seventh president, Dr. Alan Carson Rankin who assumed his office in July.

President and Mrs. Rankin and daughter, Lynn, remodeled the President's home in Allendale.

At the end of another day, President Rankin left his office and paperwork and headed home.



Vice-President and Treasurer Kenneth Moulton appropriated funds for university construction.

Robert E. Shafer and William G. Kaliden worked closely with the President as his assistants.

Vice-President and Dean of Faculty Dr. Charles W. Hardaway hired new faculty members and published the campus bulletin.

Administrators Greeted State's New President

President Alan C. Rankin came to Indiana State University from the University of Pittsburgh where he served as Vice-Chancellor in charge of Student and General Affairs. As president, his vast number of responsibilities included the administration of university personnel and the academic and physical development of the university.

Vice-President and Treasurer Kenneth Moulton was in charge of all university financial matters including payroll, purchasing of supplies, student fees, and maintenance of grounds.

Vice-President and acting Dean of Faculty Dr. Charles Hardaway was in charge of the university academic program and the faculty status.

Board of Trustees Elected Kendall President

William R. Kendall, president of the ISU Board of Trustees, was engaged in doctoral studies at Indiana University as was alumni representative on the board.

ISU BOARD OF TRUSTEES: Front Row—Dr. Wayne A. Crockett, Miss Mary L. Jessee, Mr. William Kendall, Mr. James D. Aker. Second Row—Mr. David I. Day, Miss Hilda Maehling, Mr. William W. Wilson.

Meeting twice a month, the members of Faculty Council took time out to relax before meeting formally.

The Board of Trustees was the legal governing body of the university. This body appointed administrative officials as the president and acted upon recommendations made to them by the president and faculty.

Faculty Council dealt with all matters concerning the legislative and judicial authority of the faculty and participated in the selection of administrative officials.

Dr. James R. Bash, President of the Faculty Council, prepared the agenda for Council meetings.

Services, Business Essential to University

Those who worked in the Extended Services Department were S. Seward (sec.), E. Fairchild (sec.), M. King (professional librarian).

The Extended Services Department, headed by Dr. Norbert Stirzaker, Director, and Mrs. Lois A. Burdick, Assistant to the Director, provided off-campus extension classes, evening-Saturday classes, and non-credit adult campus classes. This department sponsored correspondence study courses, a lecture bureau, concert bureau, school survey service, workshops in various sections, consultation service, and IBM test scoring services. It functioned as the state office for the Adult Education Association of Indiana, the Indiana Council of Social Studies, and the Indiana Council of Teachers of English and was responsible for the administration of the Evansville campus.

The Business Office worked with many facets concerning students' financial obligations to the University. Purchasing of supplies, student service fees, subscription to the student newspaper, and student identification cards were processed in this department.

Extended Services Director Norbert A. Stirzaker and Assistant Mrs. Lois Burdick co-ordinated correspondence study courses and consultation services.

Dr. James H. Ringer, Registrar, kept a record of all students' grades, transfer credits and classes added or dropped.

Members of the Administrative Business Staff were D. Hilt, K. Black, W. Marley, R. Barton, W. Neihart.

Staff Assistant Jerry Quick and Administrative Housing Manager Larry Browder worked together planning the operations of the housing service.

Housing Co-Ordinated Hall Operations

Director of Housing Cletis A. Shouse made arrangements for student and faculty housing.

The Housing Office was responsible for all business aspects of the operations concerning the residence halls, married students apartments, and faculty apartments. The housing service involved the maintenance of buildings, requisitioned supplies, and replaced furnishings. The food service planned menus, purchased food and supplies, and coordinated the working schedules for employees.

Mrs. B. Ostermiller, Mrs. D. Witham (dir.) and Mrs. L. Schultz were in charge of all the operations of the food services including the selection and planning of meals.

TMUB Provided Students with Many Services

TMUB Director George R. Redfearn and Assistant Otis P. Jones scheduled daily operations within the building.

The Tirey Memorial Union Building, the student life center on campus, provided lounges, recreation and meeting rooms, two ballrooms, a cafeteria, swimming pool, sandwich shop, and auditorium for the use of not only the students and faculty but for the entire community. Director of the Union Building and advisor to the Tirey Memorial Union Board was Mr. George R. Redfearn. His assistant, Mr. Otis P. Jones was in charge of the daily operation of the building facilities.

Mrs. Virginia Wade (reservation dir.) confirmed reservations for students requesting TMUB services.

Mrs. J. Caldwell (sec.), Mrs. V. Miller (food control clerk), and Miss L. Eldred (program dir.) functioned as an integral part of the TMUB.

Mr. J. White, Mr. C. Margason, and Mr. G. Cagle held the keys which unlocked every door of the university.

Construction Planned By Physical Plant

The Physical Plant Department headed by Mr. Ralph Dinkel was responsible for the care and maintenance of all college property, including utilities, grounds, and buildings. It was also in charge of the supervision and planning of over ten million dollars in new construction on campus and the maintaining of property and supply records concerning this aspect of the department. Campus mail service, telephone systems, and safety and security operations were also functions of the Physical Plant.

Mr. Ralph Dinkle, Director of the Physical Plant, supervised the care and maintenance of campus property.

Mr. W. Shafer and Mr. G. Everett checked supply records and mail service with Mrs. D. Rand, secretary.

Computer Center Compiled Enrollment Reports

Full time workers were R. Brown, J. Caserotte, L. Whitlock, K. Morrison, F. Rice.

Assistant Director Mr. R. Wiseman helped program the many duties of the Computer Center.

The Computer Center under the direction of Mr. Noel Smith provided educational services in the way of classes in computer programming and research. The Center handled student registration, the payroll, grade and enrollment reporting. It was also instrumental in out-of-class activities as the IBM Dance and the compiling of the results of the Homecoming Queen election.

Mr. Noel Smith, Director of the Computer Center, checked the operational processes of the machines.

Co-ordinator of the Division of Public and Professional Services was Dr. Wayne E. Schomer.

Services Established Good Public Relations

The Public and Professional Services Department was headed by Dr. Wayne Schomer whose primary duty was to secure better public relations between the university and the community. Four offices comprised this department. The Information Service headed by Mr. Joseph Kish was responsible for all news releases concerning the university, college publications, and campus tours. The Alumni Relations department headed by Mr. James Farmer published the ALUMNITEMS. This bulletin was sent to over 20,000 alumni and concerned many of their activities. The Placement Office scheduled interviews for graduating seniors with prospective employers. The Foundations Department headed by Executive Director Carl Parks was responsible for raising funds for services and activities not supported by taxation.

Alumni Relations Director James C. Farmer kept thousands of alumni informed about the university.

Information Services Released Publicity

The Office of Information Services was responsible for all general publicity releases of the university. This office prepared, edited, and published all advertising publications. The News Bureau, part of the Information Services, made all campus news available. Special periodicals such as the Wabash Valley Newsletter, Alumnitems, and The Slate for university employees were published. A tour service for prospective students, campus visitors, and university personnel was also provided by this department.

Mr. Joseph Kish, Director of Information Services prepared and directed news publications for the university.

Mrs. W. McBride and Mrs. M. Groscop planned university and alumni bulletins.

Mrs. C. Werland and Mrs. M. Boyer were the department secretaries.

Placement Bureau secretaries A. Britton, M. Schafer, R. Mankin, and J. Courtney scheduled appointments.

Placement Bureau Aided Prospective Graduates

Bureau of Placement offered counseling service to seniors and alumni concerned with choosing a vocational or occupational career. All graduating seniors at Indiana State University were required to register confidential data with the Bureau. This section of the Division of Public and Professional Service also arranged interviews for students with prospective employers in education, business, industry, and government services.

Placement Counsultants Mr. Herman Davis and Mr. Rex Crowder interviewed students and guided them in their choice of future jobs.

Miss Permelia Anderson, Acting Director of the Placement Service spent many hours talking with prospective employers.

Medical Care Provided Free by Health Service

Student Health Center provided free medical care to the university. The Health Center is staffed by the university physicians, a psychiatrist, and registered nurses. Services were available at all times and house calls were made by the physicians for emergency cases. This division of the Student Personnel Services was equipped to handle both out-patients and bed patients. A record of past and current medical history was kept on file in the Health Center. These records aided the staff with their medical care to patients.

Any time of the day or night a physician and nurses were on duty to care for the students.

PHYSICIANS: Sitting—Dr. P. Ensey. Standing—Dr. J. Yonan, Dr. J. L. Higgins, Dr. W. Vance, Dr. A. Chow.

NURSES, DAY SHIFT: M. Kesler, C. Kumlien, A. Taflinger, H. Welch, R. Milburn.

Financial Aids Department Arranged Loans

Student Financial Aids Office provided information, advisement, and help to Indiana State University students in financial matters. Financial aids included a variety of scholarships, loans, and part-time employment. Scholarships were given by waiver of contingent fees, university funds, alumni groups, community organizations, high schools, service clubs, and other miscellaneous funds. Loans were granted by the federal government, the United Student Aid Fund, Incorporated, private donors, and organizations. Students used this service before and after entering the university.

Mrs. I. Volkers, Mrs. L. Westen and Mrs. N. Shryock worked as secretaries in the Financial Aids Department.

Director of Student Financial Aids Mark H. Williams and Assistant Thomas Konopasek awarded scholarships.

Deans Supervised All Undergraduate Students

The Dean of Student Personnel Services assisted by the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women were responsible for the organization, administration, and development of the Student Personnel Service for the university. They were concerned with the students' problems and needs on a non-academic basis. The Student Personnel Services worked closely with and aided the students in any social, as well as economic, matters and problems. They worked with various committees comprised of students.

Vice-President and Dean of Student Personnel Services, Dr. John Truitt handled non-academic educational program.

Dean of Men, Dr. Allan Rodgers and Dean of Women, Dr. Florence Thompson counseled students.

Assisting the Dean of Women, Miss Ann Eppert and Miss Betty J. Hudson supervised halls and organizations.

Assistants to the Dean of Men, Mr. Donald Mighell and Mr. Paul Edgerton handled absentees and off-campus housing.

SGA Selected Chairmen; Planned Convocations

Every student was automatically a member of Student Government Association. Representatives were elected from each class, each residence hall, Panhellenic, Interfraternity Council, and the Independent Student Association to be a part of the Student Senate, the voting part of SGA. During the year, the Senate conducted student elections, planned convocations, selected chairmen of Homecoming, Honor Day, Model Senate, and the Miss ISU Pageant. It also chose the members for Who's Who.

SGA OFFICERS: Dr. A. Rodgers (Admin. Adv.), B. Raines, J. Elder, R. Virgin, B. Brown (pres.), Dr. R. Miller (Faculty Adv.), D. Shockley.

SGA Representatives started the ISU CARE package program for families in Viet Nam, selected members for Who's Who, and were the active voice of students on campus.

Tirey Memorial Union Board Sponsored Dances

Tirey Memorial Union Board served the campus by sponsoring social, recreational, cultural, and educational activities. Dances, movies, and monthly art exhibits by Indiana State professors were part of the Union Board schedule. Special events included the Club Bamboo, The Top Hat Club with the crowning of the Bachelor of the Year, and Fine Arts Festival centered around Indiana's 150 year anniversary. A new series of movies for children of the administration, faculty, and married students were featured.

SENIOR UNION BOARD: Front Row—B. Barnes, J. James (Pres.), C. Browder, V. Lowry. Back Row—D. Conedy, O. Morgan, J. Hasenmyer, Miss L. Eldred (dir.), Mr. G. Redfearn (dir.), Dr. J. Hamon (spon.).

Each week different bands played for the T.G.I.F. dances which became a regular program of the Union Board.

Pamarista Recognized Women with 3.0 Indexes

Pamarista membership was limited to junior women with at least a 3.0 index with recommendations from members of the faculty and administration. These recommendations were based on leadership, character, and service. During the year this organization offered their services to the university and the community. Pamarista presented the Outstanding Freshman Woman award and also gave a scholarship. It also ushered at graduation exercises. A donut sale in the residence halls was sponsored to raise funds.

Blue Key Honored Outstanding Freshman Man

Blue Key membership was determined by scholarship and extra-curricular activities. Membership was limited and dedicated to service to the student body. This national honorary fraternity for upperclassmen assisted with registration both semesters and ushered for all special convocations. Blue Key joined with Pamarista to distribute Christmas baskets to needy families in the area. Second semester activities included sponsoring the annual Care Drive. Blue Key members ushered at Honor Day and at graduation. Their annual awards were presented on Honor Day to the Outstanding Sophomore Man and the campus organization with the highest index. Awards also went to the outstanding senior in activities, in scholarship, in athletics, and in religious activities.

Discussing some of the activities of Blue Key are T. Randolph, F. Nation.

MHA Discussed Year's Well-Rounded Events

Men's Hall Association consisted of the presidents of each men's residence hall. They did not govern the halls, but MHA acted as a connecting link to each hall and the administration.

Parties for underprivileged children, hall newspapers, intramural sports, hall displays, openhouses, Campus Carnival and Fine Arts Festival booths, talent shows, picnics and annual spring dances highlighted the year for the men's halls. Each hall planned its own social, cultural, and athletic programs; MHA evaluated these events and made suggestions on ways to improve them.

Ron Beehler, chairman of the Men's Hall Association, consulted Mr. P. Edgerton, advisor, before going to meetings.

Cromwell, Rhoades Won Honors During Year

BROTHERHOOD

The organizations on the campus this year had one feeling in common, and that was brotherhood.

Groups were set up to discuss national problems and to develop a better understanding of the world we live in, while the social groups gave their members the opportunities to work together and to help one another.

Alpha Omicron Pi Received Honors on Campus

The women of Alpha Omicron Pi served their school and sorority by participating in many activities, organizations and philanthropic projects.

Inducted into Who's Who were Judy Hile, Marty Pflug, Jo Poole, Marty Schwortz, and Karen Updike. Suzie Black reigned as the first Miss Indiana State University. Vicki Birch was initiated into Pamarista and Jo Poole was selected as co-director of the production staff of Campus Review for 1966.

Also Alpha Omicron Pi was represented in Hall councils and several other school organizations and honoraries.

Honors Won by Alpha Phi

The Delta Pi chapter of Alpha Phi boasted many honors for their second year on campus both in promotion of campus leadership capacities and in development of character and scholarship.

Six Alpha Phis held spots in the Student Senate, three acting as officers, two were residence hall presidents, one was Reeve Hall's student advisor, two were chosen Homecoming Queen candidates, many pledged campus honoraries, and one was selected as Panhellenic Woman of the Year.

In addition, Barbara Raines was honored to be chosen for Who's Who and Pamarista, and Roz Milner was named Sweetheart of Pi Lambda Phi.

Alpha Phi sisters thus sought to prove an asset to the ISU campus by helping to improve Panhellenic relations by sharing with other sororities, and through service to their university and their philanthropy.

Alpha Phi record played a third place victory.

Alpha Tau Omega Captures First Place Float Award

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity spotlighted the 1965 ISU Homecoming by winning first place in the fraternity division with their float, "Give Valpo the Ax." Another outstanding ATO honor has been that of winning their third successive scholarship award at the annual ATO state day. This award is given to the outstanding chapter in the country.

Campus leadership is another area in which the fraternity shines. Co-chairmen of Homecoming, President of the Senior class, Vice-president of the Junior class and President of the Student Government Association are all members of the ATO fraternity.

Rush parties can be exciting and fun as shown by the smiles and looks of happiness at this ATO rush party.

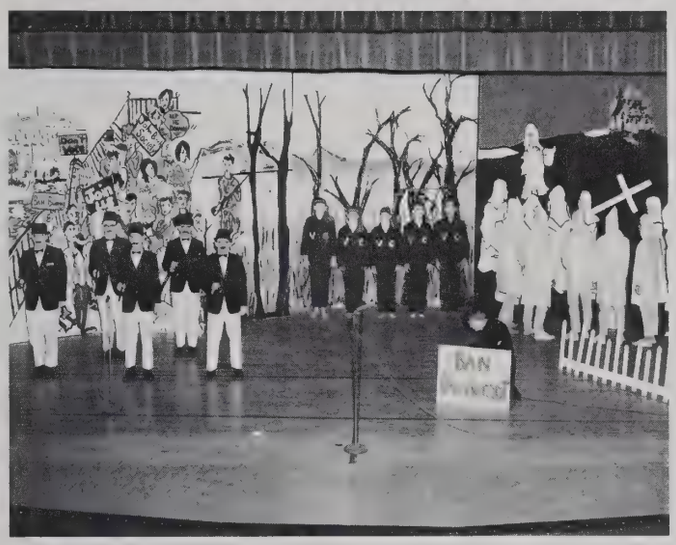
"No Touching the Untouchables" got the Chi's a second place in the Homecoming Parade.

Lambda Chi's Bolted to Another Good Year



For the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity the 1965-66 school year was a success. After taking 13 pledges in the Fall, the Chi's took 31 in the Spring to add to their expanding chapter. During the year the Lambda Chi's placed second in the float competition for the Homecoming Parade and later on Leon McDonald was runner-up in the Bachelor of the Year contest. Dick Thayer carried the fraternity name into Campus Revue as co-director of the production staff's technical crew. In Campus Revue the Lambda Chi skit, "We Love Extremists," won second place.

Many Firsts Marked the Year for Pi Lambda Phi Chapter

Pi Lambda Phi started off the new year in a new house on South Sixth Street nearer the other fraternity house. Another first for the chapter was the installation of a Little Sister chapter. Those chosen were Karen Updike, Jackie Meyer, Judy Lewis, Mary Fowler, Rosamund Milner, and Marlene Robinson. Firsts are certainly not un-common to the Pi Lam's as they took first place in 1965 Songfest and received the trophy for highest index for the second straight year.

Conform to the regular college man? Never, say the Pi Lam's.

Sig Eps Won First Place on Campus Revue Night

"The Wong Seed" turned out to be the right idea for the Sig Ep's as they turned this oriental theme into the success of a first place skit, in the 1966 Campus Revue. But this achievement followed a year of many such outstanding events. From Homecoming and Campus Carnival in the Fall to Campus Revue, pledge classes and Songfest in the Spring, the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon made, as always, a fine and outstanding performance.

The Si Eps, got ready for their oriental skit, which gave them the top award.

By "Brewing A Victory" for ISU's Homecoming, the Sig Eps won the Honorable Mention award.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Inspired Patriotism in Campus Revue

Led by director Bob Murdock, who was chosen Best Director by the Student Production Staff, the TKE's gave the audience a panorama of the American ideal in the "Spirit of Sam." But the TKE's themselves were inspired, as earlier in the spring they led the fraternities in pledge classes with 37 novices. Setting an example for these pledges are many outstanding campus leaders. Steve Dolbow who was not only a member of Student Union Board but also president of the Junior Class, was one of these ideals. Tau Kappa Epsilon was also represented exceptionally well in athletics especially football and wrestling.

Steve Dolbow pointed out historic events as "Uncle Sam."

Theta Chi Sported Bachelor of the Year

Backing Phil Smith to Bachelor of the Year on State's campus was one of the major accomplishments for the Theta Chi chapter. Besides this, however, the TC's won the "Most Original" award for their booth in the Campus Carnival.

At Christmas time the fraternity entertained the underprivileged children as a philanthropic project. In the Fall they brought the now-famous "Hot Nuts" group to the ISU campus and Terre Haute.

Outstanding in the Theta Chi chapter were Tony Zeiss who was elected president of Parsons Hall and James Martz who was selected for Who's Who.

Bathtub gin was concocted by the Theta Chi's to stone the Crusaders.

Alpha Phi's and Theta Chi's enjoyed the music of the Jades at an impressive trade party.

It was the rush councilors' duty to see that the rushies chose the group best for them.

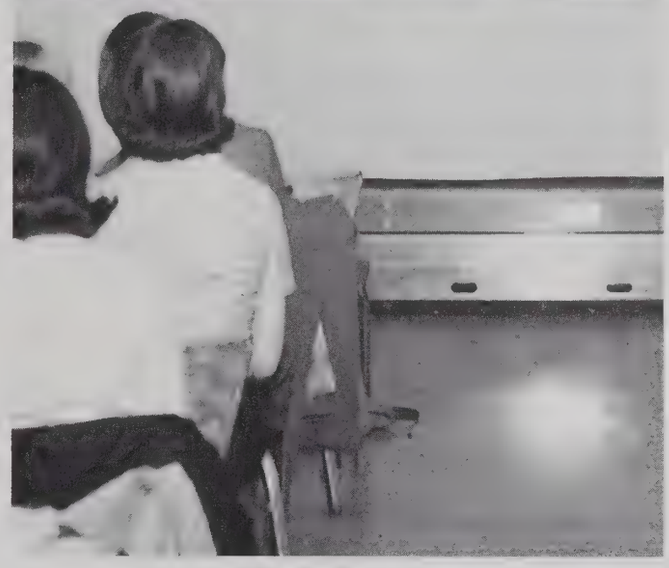
Compiling data for Rush was really quite a job. Here Miss Eppert worked with the rush committee to get things organized.

Representatives from each sorority met together to create better understanding between the sororities and the campus.

Panhellenic Worked Toward New Quota System in Future

Panhellenic Council sponsored, as usual, The Crystal Ball; Sorority Rush; Sorority Openhouse; Campus Revue; and Greek Sing during the school year. They controlled the pledging activities of all the sororities at ISU and the colonization of the new Alpha Xi Delta sorority in February.

A new system of setting quotas for the several sororities was the largest and most pertinent problem facing the Council in the past year. Many meetings and investigations were taken up with the different plans offered for the interests of the existing groups and new groups wanting to colonize.



New officers were inducted in the traditional candle ceremony as Judy DeLashmit presented the new positions.

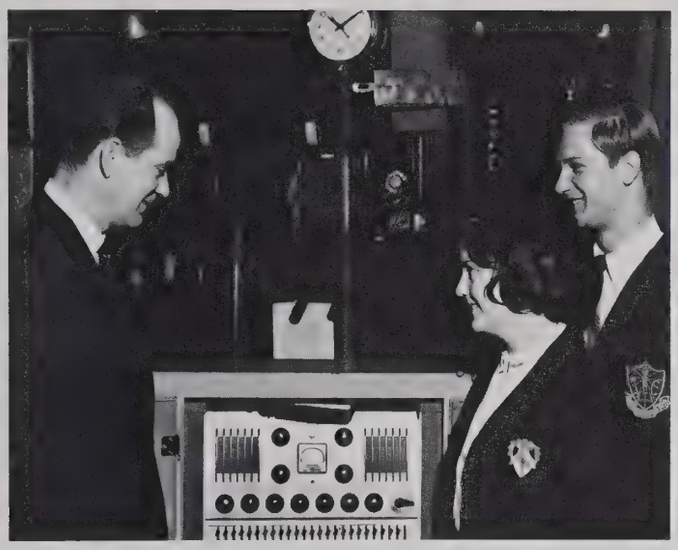
Junior Panhellenic representatives learned the ropes of handling rush and all-sorority functions.

Inter-fraternity council attempted to promote Greek life among the men of ISU and unity among the fraternities themselves.

Displays were made by each fraternity to explain some of their ideals.

Filling out rush cards was almost as tiring as regular registration.

IFC Set Up Format for Fraternities



Under the auspicies of Inter-Fraternity Council the fraternities initiated new and more organized plans for rush and other fraternity and inter-fraternity functions.

Because of the expansion of ISU, the Council undertook the revamping of their by-laws, which worked to widen their scope and apply their activities to the University level.

IFC sponsors fraternity rush, including all-fraternity smokers, and many other events and, with Panhellenic, back Campus Revue.

Karl Spandau and Judy DeLashmit talked over plans concerning new combined programs for the Councils.

Registration began the weeks of smokers to acquaint the men with fraternity life.

IDEAL SORORITY WOMEN: J. Hoover, K. Kautzman, D. Adams, L. Cox, J. James, J. Rapp, G. Ridgway, V. Birch.

Sponsored by Panhellenic Council, the Crystal Ball was given for and by all the sorority women on the campus. Announced at the annual event were the Ideal Sorority Women from each sorority. This girl is chosen for her excellent example that she set for her sisters during her college career. Also chosen from each sorority was a head for each committee in charge of the affair.

The girls and their dates were entertained by live music and refreshments are provided for them and their guests. Each year more sororities take active parts in the planning and execution of the dance which was, as it has been in the past, a success.

The sorority women and their dates danced the night away at the Crystal Ball.

CRYSTAL BALL COMMITTEE: S. Smith, S. Senior, M. Maloney, S. Davis, J. Dust, S. Grant.

Refreshments were served for the sorority women and their dates.

The climax of the evening was the Grand March, led by the committee members and their dates.

Hostesses Greet Guests to Aid Campus Groups

The University Committee, which was formed by the hospitality committee of the Tirey Memorial Union Board, consisted of twenty-eight students, chosen from each class, to greet the guests of the University.

These guests who visited our school came to attend the many convocations, school and city meetings as well as the numerous art and musical productions, and as representatives of the University our hostesses made them feel welcome through their assignments.

Their jobs were numerous and varied as they served at teas, led tours on our campus, worked as usherettes and answered any questions concerning Indiana State.

Serving at University teas was just one assignment of the hostesses.

Religious Council United Campus Life

Spiritual background adds another dimension for the college students' growth. Religious organizations on campus were responsible for this contribution. A representative from each of the religious organizations formed the Campus Religious Council which coordinated various functions such as "Know Your Church Day" during Freshmen Orientation Week. They also sponsored "expresso night" and workshops in order to increase understanding among the groups.

Canterbury Club Grew In Number and Spirit

Membership of Indiana State's chapter of the Canterbury Club was increased greatly from last year. The group took on many new responsibilities along with these new members. They arranged for many different and interesting programs and activities in connection with the church and church life. Get-togethers were planned for evenings and Sundays to discuss problems and ideas and just to have fun.

Praying together, club members found they could find comfort not only with God but with each other.

Guest Speaker Inspires Christian Scientists

Mr. Fred Linesay, representative from the Mother Church, was guest speaker at workshop for group.

The Christian Science Organization at Indiana State was sponsored under the auspices of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christian Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts. It met weekly for the purpose of fellowship and to promote the activities of the group on campus.

Church of Christ Promoted Brotherhood At ISU

The Church of Christ Campus Fellowship was established in 1960 at Indiana State University for the purpose of providing Christian Fellowship for the students of Indiana State, and to promote a spiritual atmosphere in their campus life. Membership in this organization was open to any student of Indiana State who conducted himself or herself in a Christian-like manner and was interested in the purpose of the organization. Primarily it was for students who were members of the Church of Christ.

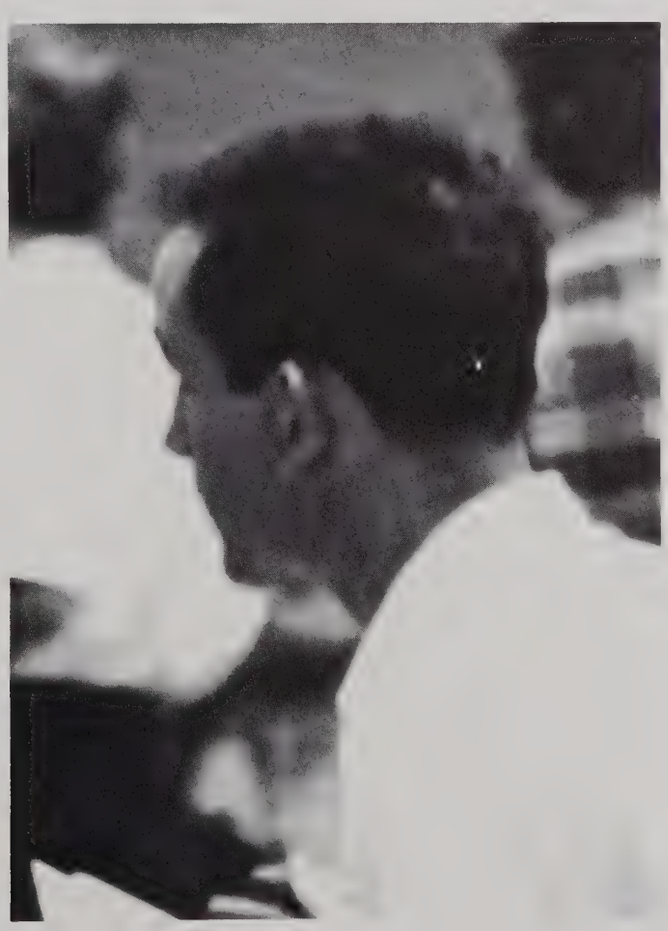
Hillel, a relatively new religious group on campus, served the Jewish students in many facets. The organization consisted of eighty-six students and met twice a month. Meetings consisted of business, dinner, and a guest speaker. Various activities were planned for the students throughout the year. One major activity of the group each year was Dialogue, a religious discussion group which met at St. Mary's College. Hillel is one of the five Hillel groups in the state of Indiana. Hillel tried to serve the students by being a home away from home.



Debater looked quizzingly into rivals face before giving his retort.

Inter-Varsity Youths

Strengthened Their Faith

Billy Graham, popular and world famous evangelist, spoke to over 7,000 members at their seventh convention.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is an interdenominational evangelical student movement. The initiative and direct responsibility for a witness to Jesus Christ are in the hands of the students themselves. Last year the group attended the Seventh Annual Inter-Varsity International Missionary convention at the University of Illinois where evangelist Billy Graham, of world wide fame, spoke to the youth. Since its founding the Fellowship has now grown to over 800 chapters throughout the United States. This past year the students have taken part in weekly fellowship meetings, daily prayer meetings, Bible studies, socials, and other activities.

Praying together built character in those who joined in the services with the Roger Williams Fellowship.

Roger Williams Group Enjoyed Get-togethers

Roger William's Fellowship was an organization for Baptist youth and a member of the Indiana State Baptist Student Movement. A Halloween party, a Christmas party, and a spring retreat were some of their social highlights of the year. Members especially enjoyed "Sunac" and Gafia. Gafia, standing for Get Away From It All, was held twice a month and featured games and snacks. Sunac was the Sunday evening meals which were prepared for the group. The members also tutored at the Boys Club.

Sunday evening meals gave students a nice break from the meals at the dorms or restaurants.

Newman Club Worked Toward More Fun

The beginning of the 1965 Fall semester saw a first for the Newman Center at 5th and Mulberry. Father Beechem, chaplain, offered Mass there as a start for the school year. Since that time, several Masses have been offered in the student center. In addition, social events such as volleyball, singing, dances, picnics and hayrides, were enjoyed by members of Newman club, which drew its membership from both Indiana State and Rose Poly.

St. Joseph's church stood just a few blocks away from campus, making it easy for Catholic students to attend church regularly.

The spirit of Christmas was not forgotten by the members of Newman Club as they had a little fun before leaving for home and a vacation from school.

Wesley Provided Fun for State Students

Though defined as "The Methodist Church on Campus," the Wesley Foundation counts among its members, students, faculty and staff of many denominations and faiths, both from State and Rose Poly. Wesley provided in the past year opportunities for fellowship, service, worship and study, through the forum programs, discussion and study groups, and facilities for recreation relaxation and counciling.

OFFICERS: C. Pruitt (pres.), J. McFarland (campus minister), and J. Hayes (sec.).

Wesley Foundation built a new building to accomodate the growing membership and improve conditions.

APO National Fraternity

Pledged 17 in the Fall

Members of Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity, strove to fulfill the organization's principles of leadership, friendship, and service. Eligible men were those with an established accumulative index of at least a 2.0 and who had a desire to serve the college, community and the nation. The men of APO proved to be a needed organization for many of the campus activities.

APO's helped to clear the traffic congested streets during the first days of school.

Many Activities Marked the Year for APO's

Alpha Phi Omega provided ushers at the Sycamore Theater productions, assistants for registration, timers for ISU debate tournaments, and escorts for Homecoming Queen candidates. For the first time, the members enjoyed a spring formal, Highlights of Spring. Their first Homecoming float entry, a welcome to Indiana State alumni, headed the Homecoming Parade. Senior Day and the AAUW Booksale also employed the services of APO.

Circle "K" Served ISU, Community and Nation

Circle K Club existed to promote fund drives and blood drives for national and local charities, and to assist the university in administration, registration, orientation, and campus tours. Circle K was sponsored, as are all national Circle K Clubs, by the Kiwanis Club, with the cooperation of university officials. During the year the club conducted fund-raising activities to meet expenses and to finance programs of service.

INRC Speaks of Universal Brotherhood

This club provided for better world relations and international understanding. Its diversity of members helped to present many views and beliefs, otherwise overlooked, and helped to create a universal brotherhood. Because of the many creeds and nationalities represented, the group attracted many interested coeds who took a willing part in their interesting and educational discussions. Much was learned and resolved during these sessions and a better understanding of the world was grasped. This group served as a step towards better understanding of our neighbors and a true desire for world friendships. Young minds were enlightened and mature minds were opened to new ideas and hopes.

Faculty Women and Wives Clubs Work Together

The Faculty Woman's club is composed of all women professors on this campus. This organization had lunch and social functions which provided an opportunity for the professors to discuss teaching methods and experiences. In this way, therefore, they became well acquainted and learned many views and practices of classroom methods.

The women invited guest speakers to their gatherings and in this way often learned about other colleges and universities and their educational techniques. New professors were made to feel welcome and found the club very helpful and worthwhile. The club was a success in that it achieved its goals of friendship and learning.

FACULTY WOMEN AND WIVES: ACROSS—S. Waterman, J. Horwood, R. Nees, V. Adams.

FACULTY WIVES CLUB OFFICERS: ACROSS—P. Englland (v. pres.), B. Barnes (treas.), L. Neville (pres.), B. Farrar (rec. sec.).

The Faculty Wives club is made up of all of the wives of the professors of the University. The club has teas and social gatherings at which the wives may become more acquainted with one another as well as with the University and their husband's work.

The club also sponsors luncheons at which guest speakers are invited to give interesting and educational talks.

The club provides an excellent opportunity for wives of new professors on campus to meet new friends and learn about Indiana State University. The club also gives the wives a chance to become active participants and members of our growing campus.

This Year NAACP Began Urging Campus Unity

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is the nation's oldest civil rights organization. This newly formed club was awarded the honor of being selected as the most outstanding college chapter in Indiana. Working through legal rather than protest means the NAACP strives to better the status of the Negro in America. An NAACP chapter is located on nearly every major university and college campus in America. Co-operating with the administration and faculty, these chapters work to eliminate racial prejudices among students of higher learning.

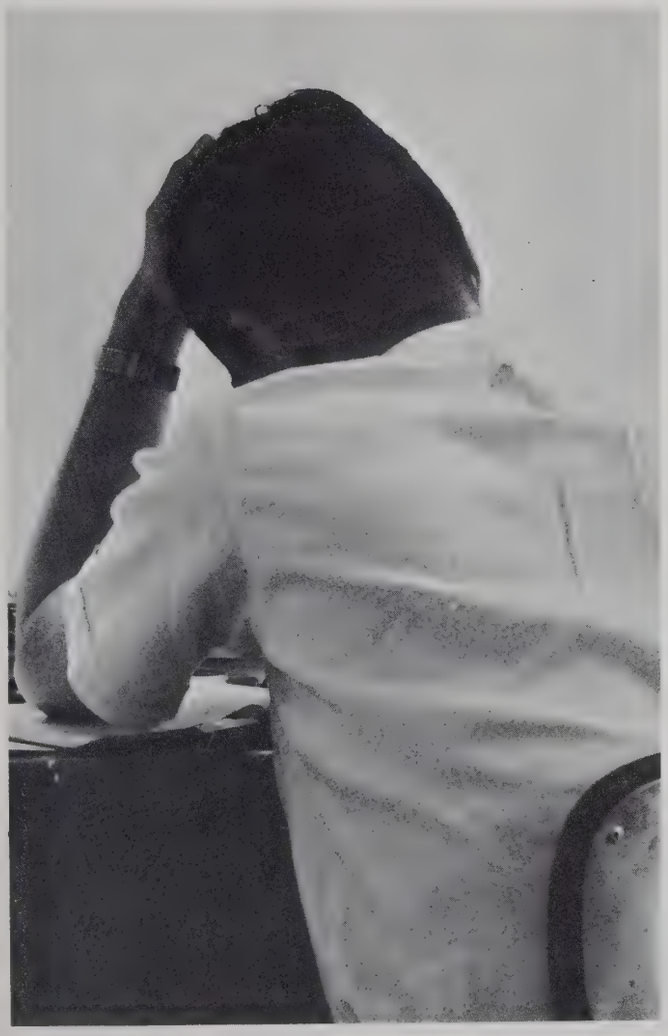
In February, the I.S.U. chapter sponsored a noted author during Negro History Week. Speakers and discussions comprise the regular monthly meeting.

Dr. Andre Hammonds and Dr. Clara Appell sponsor the chapter. The chapter is composed of approximately 100 members.

The first meeting of NAACP found students paying their membership dues.

At the first formal meeting of the NAACP, Dr. H. Bristol, President of the Terre Haute chapter, gave a talk to the new members.

The members of the Radio Association Club spend their spare time working at various stations.



First Big Year for Radio Association Club

The Radio Association Club has been newly organized for those students who were majoring in this area. The students received experience in script writing and radio announcing with both campus and local networks.

Many hours were spent at broadcasting stations learning new methods and techniques which helped prepare the new speakers for later work. The students learned to develop their style of broadcasting and gain experience which would be quite valuable when seeking a permanent position.

The members were in frequent contact with well known broadcasters and announcers and in this way they gained much knowledge otherwise impossible to come in contact with. And because of the valuable experience that this club offered, our radio and television students can now begin broadcasting all throughout Terre Haute.

Many hours were spent on writing radio scripts.

Young Republican Club

Aims for the Future

The Republican club's goal was to create an understanding of the party's beliefs and platforms. The members were given the opportunity to meet political leaders and discuss their views and stands. They worked together to learn and understand national happenings and decisions.

The Young Republicans supported their local, state, and national candidates by learning their platforms, campaigning for them, and working at the polls.

The group realized the importance of the American political scene and helped to create interest in upholding their party's views.

With this college experience and learning, these young politicians will be the backbone of tomorrow's nation.

Representative Miller was welcomed to ISU by six young Republican fans.

Fans of Governor Scranton stopped to visit after the speech.

Political topics were often chosen for debate tournaments as well as for intellectual discussions.

Vice-President Humphrey was greeted by Terre Haute along with the Democrat mascot.

Officers of the Democrat club discussed events for the future with an advisor.

Governor Wallace was one of the major speakers.

Young Democrats Practiced Political Beliefs

Among the many speeches to be made, Wallace also met with the press.

The Young Democrat Club provided for students to project their political affiliations and to learn more about the government of our nation. The club arranged for students to come in contact with highly respected political leaders and to hear many well known speakers.

Members often had debates and discussions, and in this way learned to develop their national affairs as well political opinions.

The club strove to create a broad-minded and intelligent outlook on politics and helped members to become familiar with democratic candidates and their platforms.

These young leaders, given opportunities to campaign for candidates and help with elections, may be our leaders of tomorrow.

Vice-President Hubert Humphrey arrives at Hulman Field to begin a goodwill tour.

ATHLETICS

The rigid competition of our sports—football, wrestling, basketball, swimming, cross country, baseball—and an excellent intramural program capture the interest of many students on our campus and help to build character, stamina and leadership, which are vital to develop an all-important goal for our Fighting Sycamores—Sportsmanship.

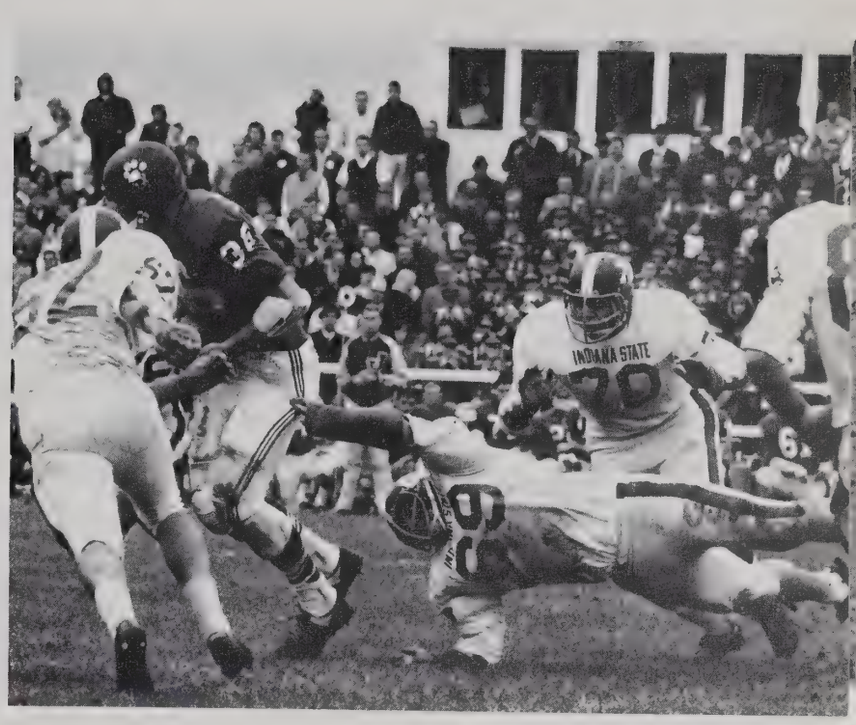
Junior end Rod Sanders basked in a moment of glory when he caught the pass and drove on to make the only score against St. Joseph's.

One of the less strenuous practices for the Sycamores was a chalk talk given by coaches Huntsman and Sanders.

Five Sycamores Take ICC Gridiron Honors

Under the leadership of returning lettermen and sparked forward by surprising underclassmen, the Sycamores tallied up scores for a winning season of 4—3—1 in 1965. Although the blue-and-white gridders did not fulfill expectations of forecasters, hard-hitting and fast-running backs in conjunction with the powerful line made ISU a challenge for any opponent. State also placed five men on the first team berths in the ICC: Bernard Heins, tackle; John Truitt, end; Bob Pychinka, linebacker; John Nesbitt, halfback, who was only second in rushing and tied the ICC record for p.a.t.; and Edgar Freese, defensive tackle, who was also named as most valuable lineman.



St. Joseph's 36 couldn't rid himself of clinging Ed Freese but was promptly brought down by the onslaught of Dan Wright.

The pass intended for the Pumas' 83 had not a chance for completion when it fell into the awaiting grasp of John Truitt with Van Morrison also ready to intercept.

Even acrobatic plays of Illinois State's Red Birds were not sufficient to block the kick or stop the spirit of Sycamores.

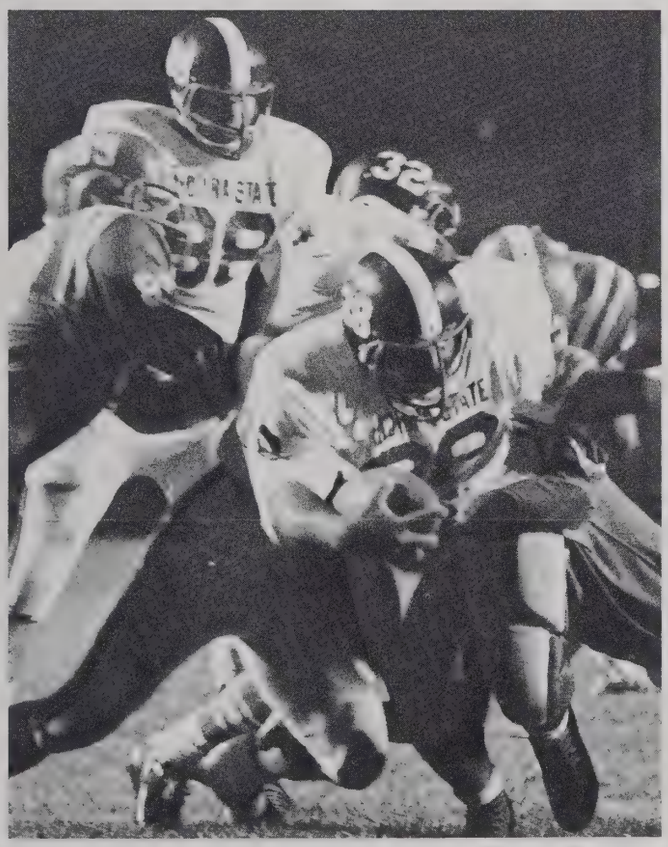
With the precision and accuracy of a veteran, sophomore quarterback Mike Hoke placed a punt just out of reach of the on-rushing Illinois State defensive team.

The "never-say-die" drives of "Tank" Tyler were persistently utilized to gain the extra yardage for that all-important first down.



A loose ball created many an upset on the gridiron, and ISU was once again on the offensive after gaining possession from St. Joseph's.

Freshmen Gridders Have Even Season

Freshman football saw a boom in participants this season. Turning out for action were 102 boys—the largest turnout in the history of Indiana State.

The frosh gridders met great opposition and were downed in their first game 14 to 7 by DePauw. Against Evansville the team held firm and tied 14 to 14. In their final game the young Sycamores stifled Eastern Illinois 20 to 7. At the close of the season the team attended a banquet at which 35 award winners were honored. Coach Oberle spoke on the season's events and congratulated the team on the fine potential they displayed.

Rounding up a fine season, the team gathered in Sandison Hall for a banquet and presentation of awards.

Endurance Brought ICC First to ISU C-C Team

Cross Country is one of the most demanding yet unheralded of sports. Indiana State was represented by a devoted group of young men in this rigorous sport. Led by coach Robert Meyne the Sycamores showed several opponents the heels of their spikes. Although the statistics point to a 2—2—1 record, the season results put the Sycamores in first place in the ICC with a ten-point margin over second place. The freshmen showed many signs of good things to come when they won both their scheduled and the ICC meets.

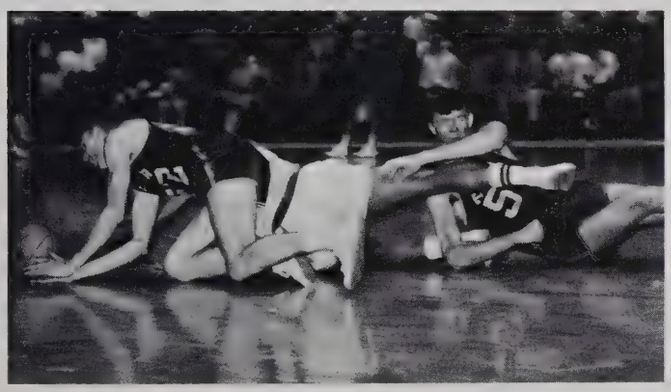
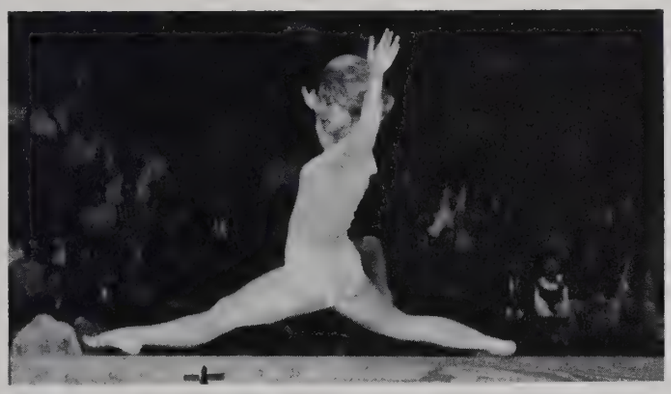
Season Filled by Teams with Extra Attractions

Sparkling playing on the court during the games was supplements several times during the year by the women's gymnastics team, which gave exhibitions in free exercises, on the parallel and uneven bars, and on the horses.

Spotlighting many of the games in the schedule were Jerry Neusom and Mike Phillips, who always were outstanding. Phillips played a consistent and hard game against each and every opponent. Neusom was always a sparkling player, often scoring in the double figures and many times leading the team in points per game.





Women's gymnastics team entertained at half times.

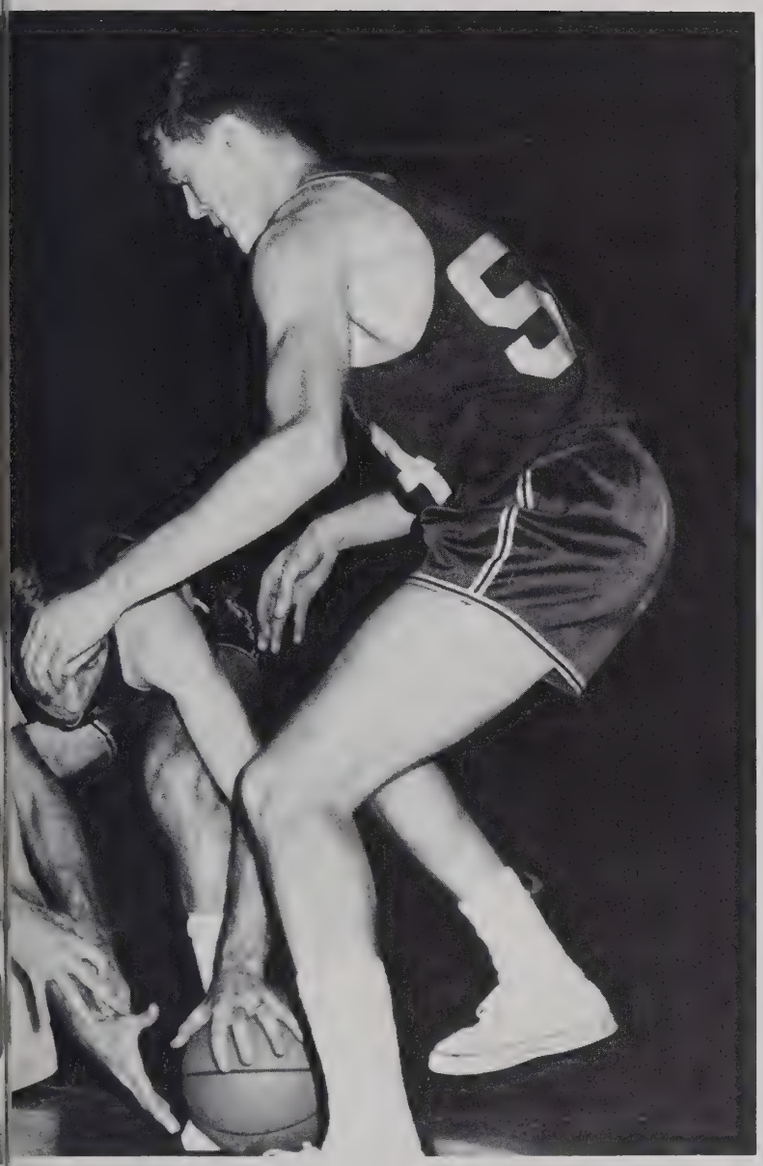
Sycamores Gained Spirit from Coach and Fans



Cheerleaders, fans and coaches are traditionally the spirit-builders of the teams, basketball or football. ISU is no different, in fact, here at State these people do more than is expected of them. The cheerleaders attended away games where attendance was less than nothing and coach Klueh never diminished his confidence in his players.

Freshman Cagers Displayed Enthusiasm

An enthusiastic, hardworking freshman squad led by coach Bob Hollar were victorious on the hardwood this season. The team began the season by winning the first two games against DePauw and Butler. St. Joseph's handed the yearling squad their first defeat by a score of 81 to 73. However, later in the season ISU freshmen returned the favor and squelched St. Joe 89 to 73.

Leading the freshman team in scoring for the season was Mike Cooper. Highlighting the season was retaining a started tradition of defeating the arch rival Evansville. The freshman team downed the Purple Aces 89 to 76, making it five straight wins for ISU.

During practice sessions, the team was taken through various defensive drills to improve its attack on the court.

Ron Powell, who placed third in the NAIA, poised on the board displaying the form necessary for executing a winning dive.

Tankers Battle for Wins As ISU Pool Record Falls

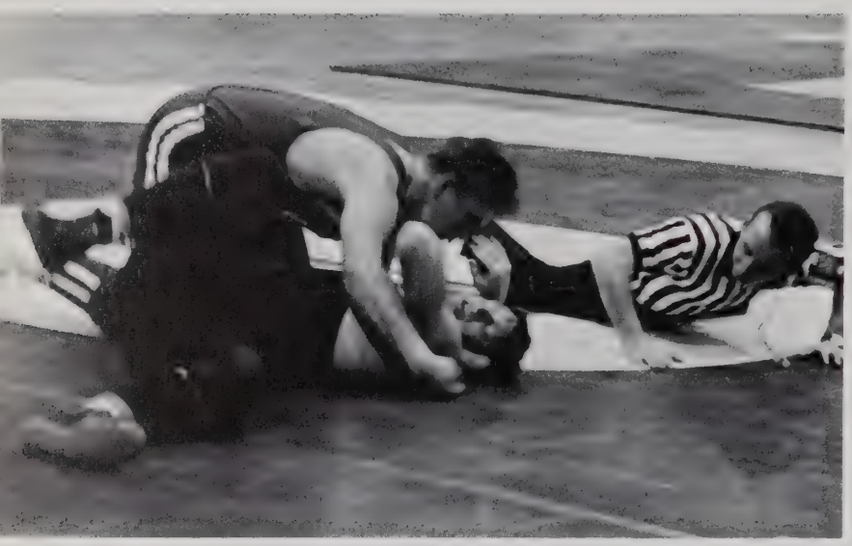
The ISU pool record for the 200-yard butterfly event, set by Russ Leo in 1964, was broken by Phil Brogan during the Valpo meet with a time of 2:17.9. Other outstanding performances were added with wins over Eastern Illinois University, 56—37, and Valparaiso, 53—42. Larry Dalton, Detroit junior, consistently handed in first place efforts in the 200-and 400-yard freestyle events, as did Ron Powell, ranked second place in ICC diving competition at the beginning of the season. Losses were suffered at the Riviera Club, DePauw, and Evansville, despite the efforts of other persistent teammates, Bill Beier, Dennis Bancroft, John Webb, Pat Gallagher, and Wally Bennett.

Ron Powell tried to maintain perfect form before completing his fourth dive to win the competition over Evansville.

Swimming fans smoldered as tension mounted and Ron Powell attempted to gain another first place in diving.

Splashing frantically, Phil Bogan set an ISU record for the 200-yard butterfly competition.

NCAA Named ISU to University Division



The referee spent as much time on the mat as the contestants determining to whom the points would be awarded.

Because of the high caliber competition the Sycamores met this year, the National Collegiate Athletic Association ordered Indiana State's wrestling team into the university division. The ISU team proved more than worthy of their classification throughout the season. In the fourth annual Indiana Invitational Wrestling Tournament, the ISU grapplers placed first eight times out of eleven over Purdue and Indiana, also taking three third place awards, one fourth place award and the most valuable wrestler award. The team defeated Ball State by winning all but two of the contested weight classes. State's wrestlers continued their efforts when they defeated U of Miami, the Mid-American champs, again losing only two classes to the opponents.

Randy Qualitza brought the team many points throughout the season, including those from a pin at Illinois State.

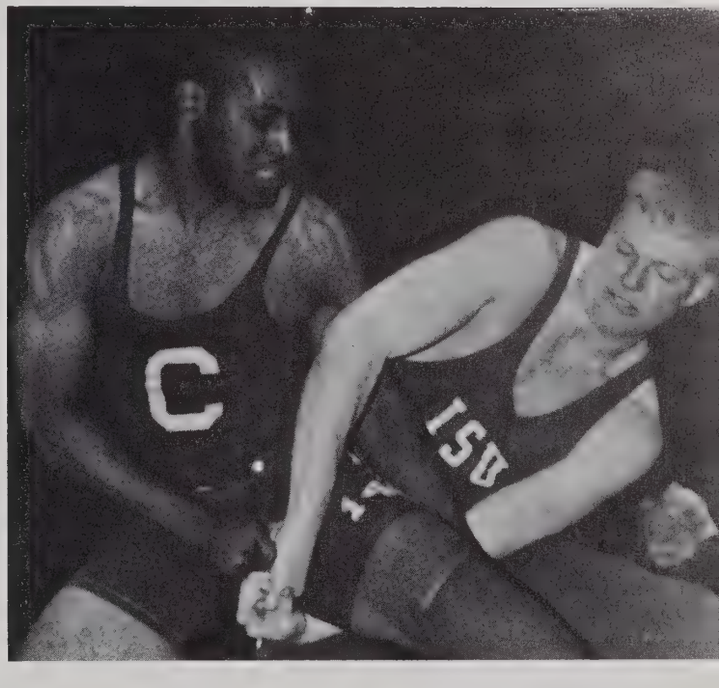
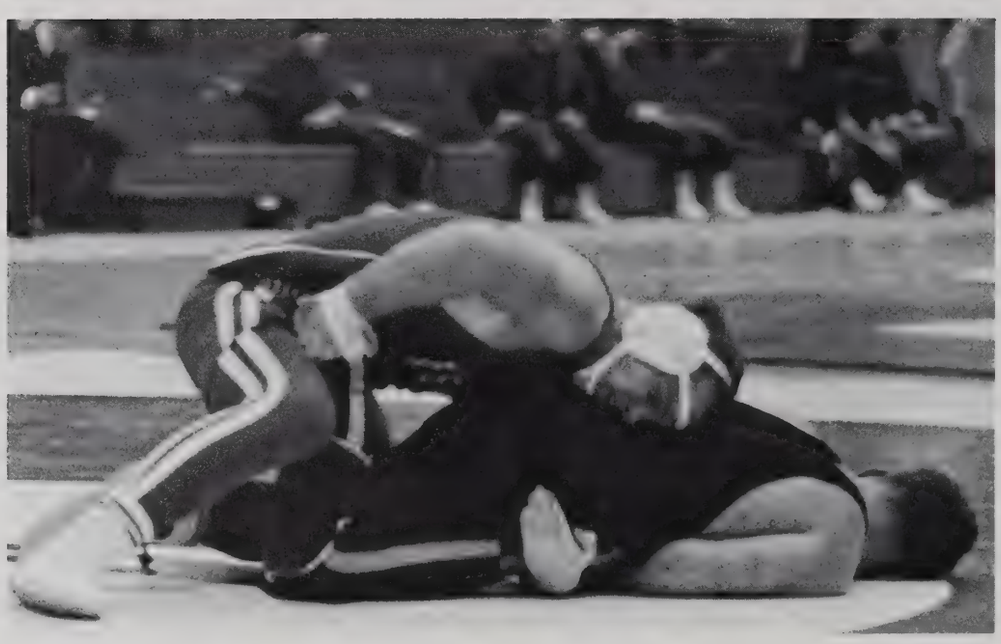
WRESTLING TEAM: Front Row—S. Parker, S. Walenz (Capt), T. Parker, D. Humphries, D. Haluiko, P. Dudash. Second Row—G. Burkhart, R. Dotlich, W. Copolby, L. Freiberger, C. Dumus. Last Row—J. Unsworth, B. Pychinka, R. Attonito, M. Kelly, T. Snow, R. Qualitza, C. Emlund.

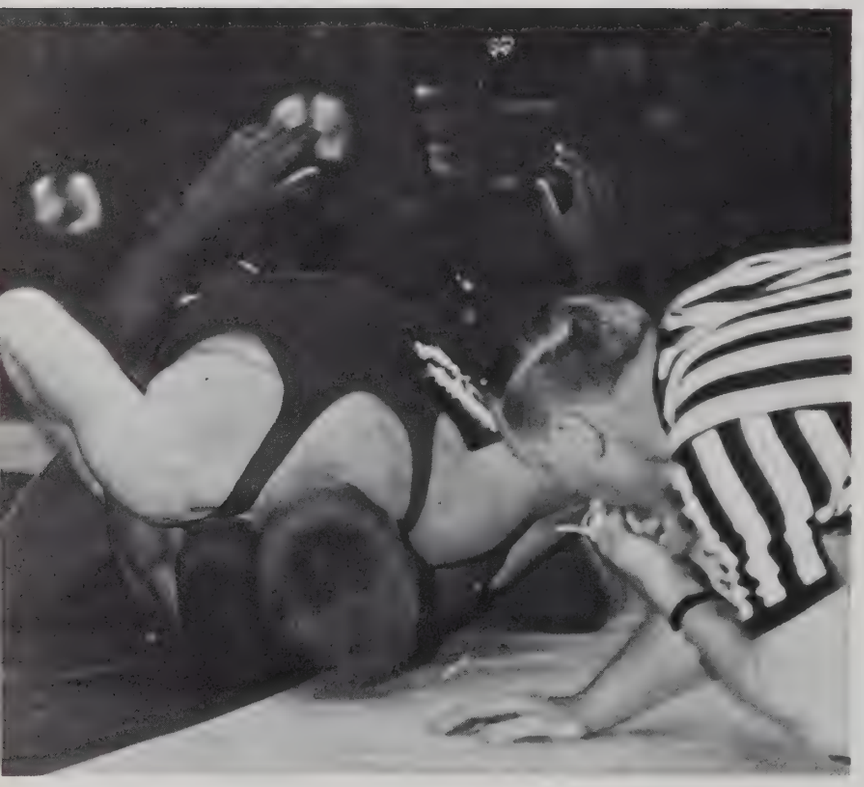


Mike Kelly worked on the breakdown of Dick Barnes of Indiana Central which ended in a pin.

Head coach Sanders, current president of NAIA Wrestling Coaches Association, guided his team to many victories.



During an intermission the coach and team members inspect the condition of team captain Steve Walenz' torn muscle.



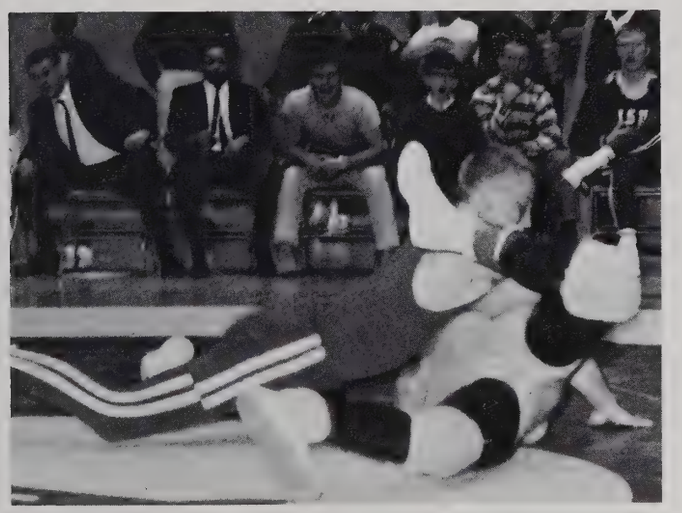
Kelly displayed his tremendous wrestling ability that rendered him undefeated as he once again pinned his opponent.

Another ISU mat man struggled and fought to keep his opponent on the defensive for those long moments.

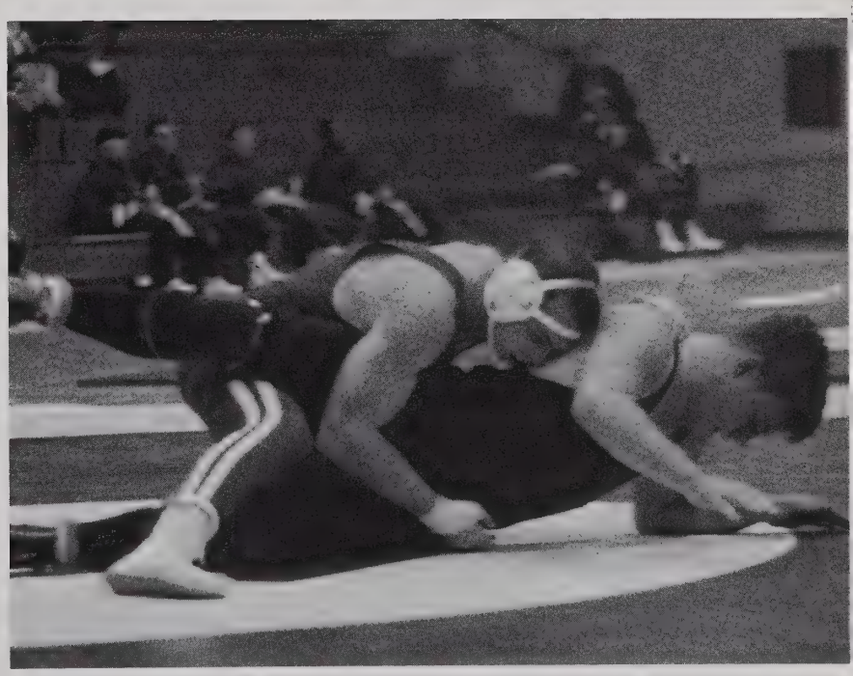
Sycamore Grapplers Have Outstanding Season

Coach Sanders' ISU wrestling team proved to be more than a match for most of their opponents. In one of the wildest wrestling matches in Indiana Collegiate Conference history, the Sycamores defeated Ball State 29 to 5. Led by Captain Sam Parker, the grapplers took all but two of the contested weight classes. In another victorious match, the team pinned the mid-American champ, University of Miami, to a 23 to 8 victory. Toward the end of the season the wrestling team toured four Midwest schools and brought back four victories. Teddy Parker provided the team with backbone as he went undefeated for ten matches. Eight starters wrestled into first places in the Indiana Collegiate Invitational. Ending a tremendous winning season, the Sycamore wrestlers captured firm standing in the ICC.

State's matmen prepared to meet Purdue in six divisions before a crowd of enthusiastic fans.



Randy Qualitza struggled to bring his opponent to the floor for the all important "pinning."



Mike Kelly who won the Indiana Collegiate Invitational in the 191-pound class smothered his opponent from Purdue as he attempted a series of holds.

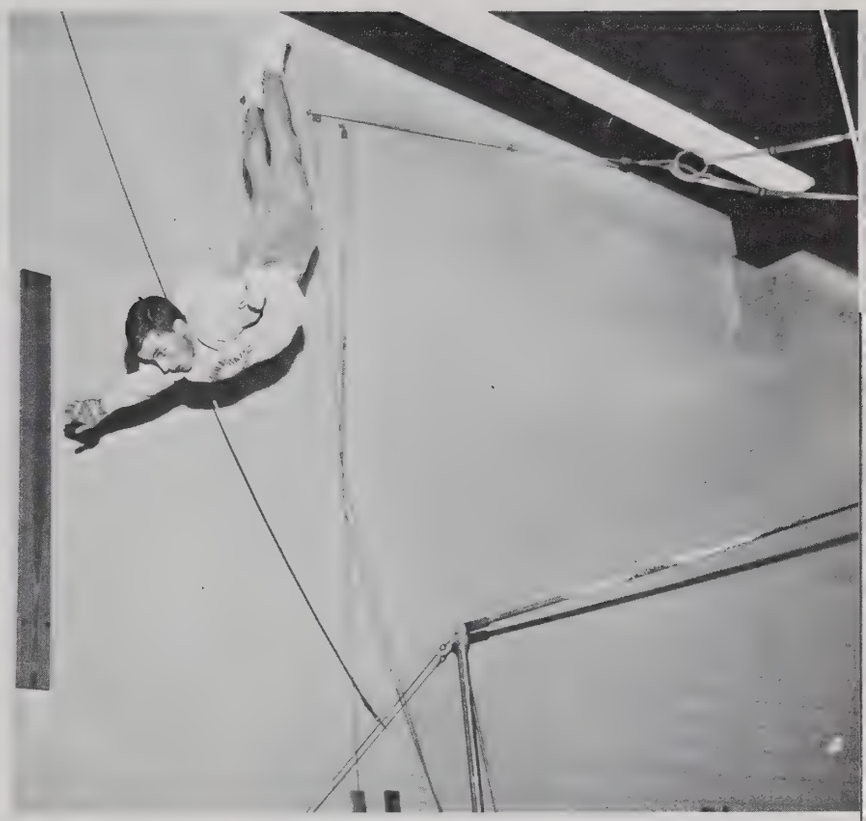
With great strength and stamina, Tom Halley executed an L-Cross on the high rings.

Jim Caruso worked diligently to perfect a difficult routine on the parallel bars.

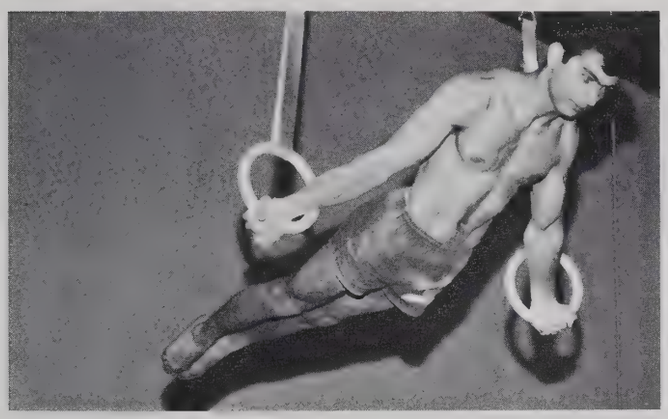
Senior Dan Poe exhibited his grace and ability on the trampoline with back summersaults in pike position.

Sycamore Gymnasts Upset National Champion

Under head coach Roger Council ISU's Gymnastic Team met its season of toughest competition—including four Big Ten Conference teams plus 1965 NcAA Gymnastic Tournament runner-up, Southern Illinois U—with the entire 1964-65 Gymnastic team returning and several new team members. However, the competition didn't prove to be out of State's reach as the team progressed through the season winning meet after meet and ended the season with a perfect winning record in the NAIA. One high light was ISU's 162 to 161 upset over defending NAIA national gymnastic champion Western Illinois University when two national champions were defeated by Jack Rees and Jerry Polacek. All around man Bill Snook captured the highest total points for the team.



Bill Snook, high point man for ISU's gymnasts, displayed his ability as he did a fly-away off the high bar.



Freshman Bob Lindi showed the great muscular control required to perform well on the rings.

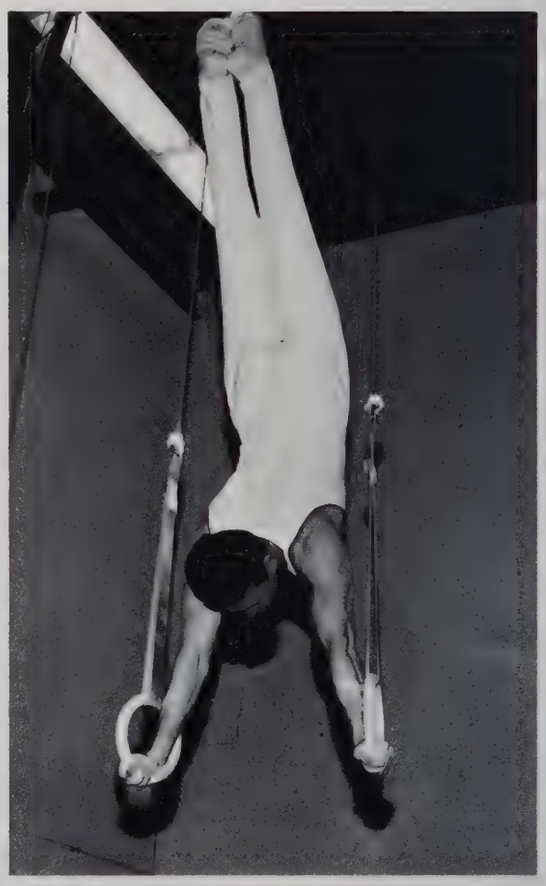
Jack Rees, "Mr. Versatility," displayed his vaulter capabilities in a giant cartwheel over the horse.

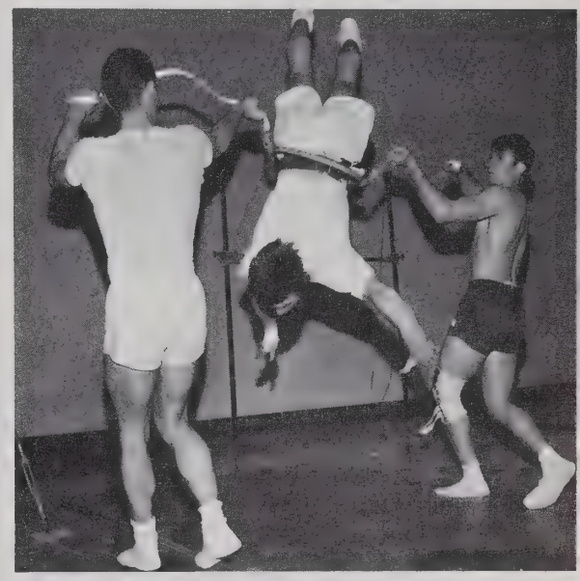
FRESHMAN GYMNASTICS TEAM: R. Vorner, B. Lindi, G. Boytt, F. Meyers, J. Bridson, T. Tail.



John Allerdyce completed another successful season on the rings and parallel bars.

Bill Snook executed a wide arm handstand during a free exercise routine.

The difficult German Giant was performed on the high bar by Ken Scorza.



Poise and grace were acquired only after months of hard practices.

John Price sailed to the ground during a forward summersault routine.

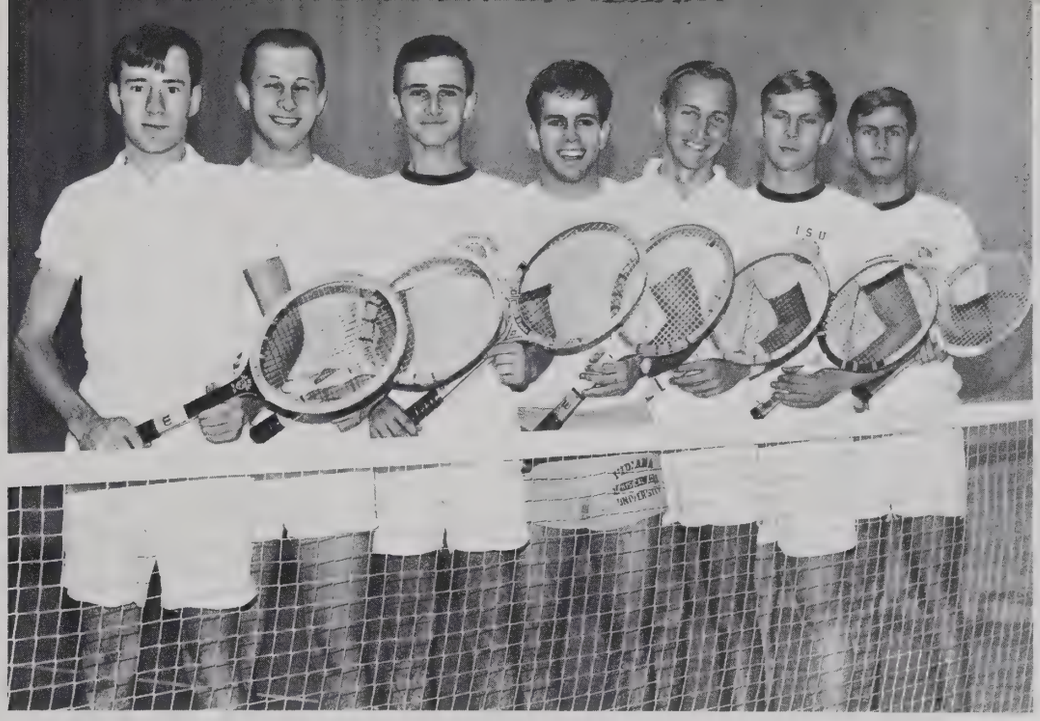
ISU Netmen Hampered by Loss of Players

The 1965-1966 racketmen were hampered this season by illness and a call from Uncle Sam. Number one man, Richard Dobler, was lifted from action by mononucleosis and Harry Oyler enlisted in the Armed Forces. The squad lost three of its lettermen from last season. Therefore, Coach Kleuh was faced with a young new team. The team's overall seasonal record showed the results of much hard work. The Sycamores had a rough schedule and saw many good contest on the courts.

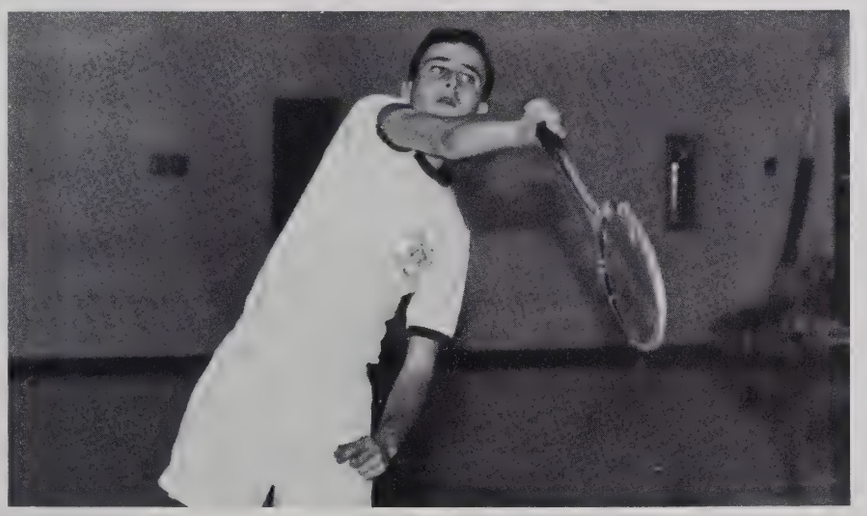
A firm steady forehand stroke may have meant either a good or bad return.

Reaching high to smash the ball down before his opponent was Elliot Frisch.

Using his entire body to come down with all his strength was Darrel Johnson.



TENNIS TEAM: L. Holmes, L. Mickelson, R. Smith, E. Fritsch, D. Johnson, R. Ryden.



Richard Smith returned the ball to his opponent with a smashing forehand drive.

Long hours of diligent practice was required to ascertain a high quality of alertness.

VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM: Front Row—S. Harlan, B. Warren, G. Earle, R. Vrabel, L. Roesch, P. Gries, R. Edgerton. Second Row—D. Falda, J. Milner, D. Lazar, B. Bower, M. Harlan, R. Miller, B. Alan Buell tied with ten other ICC players in individual fielding percentages with a 1000 percent.

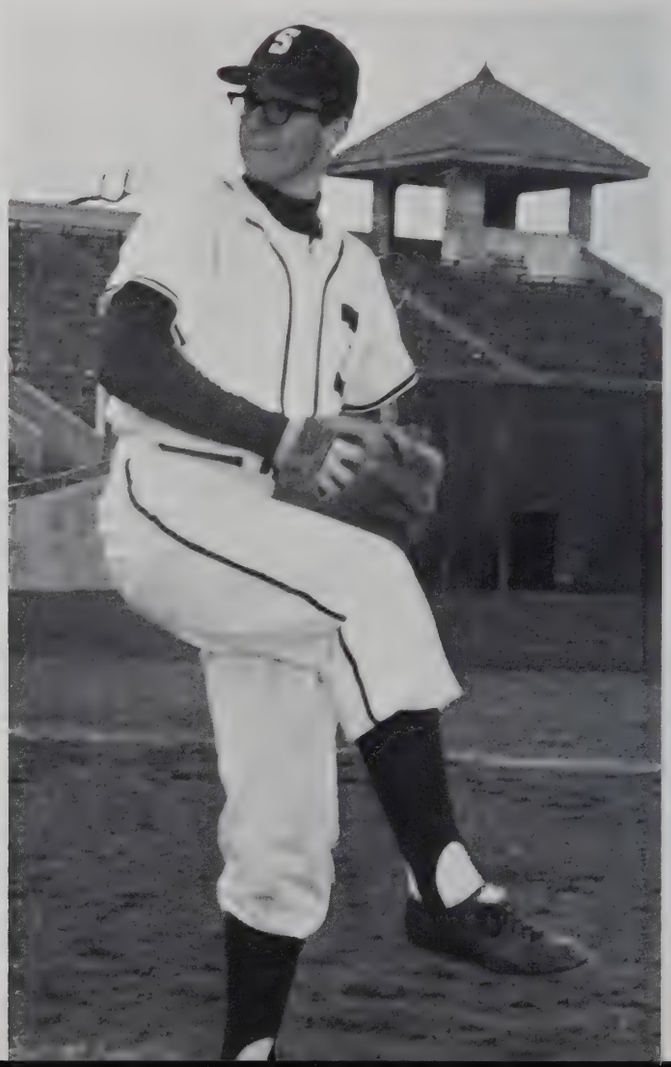
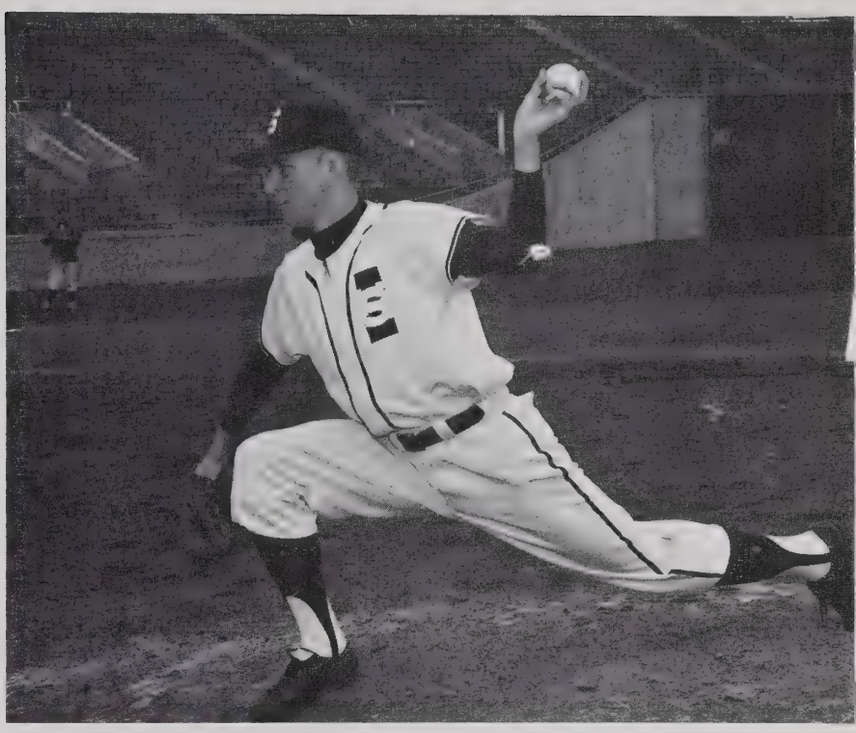
The smooth, accurate form of Dan Lazar explains his impressive number of wins for the season.



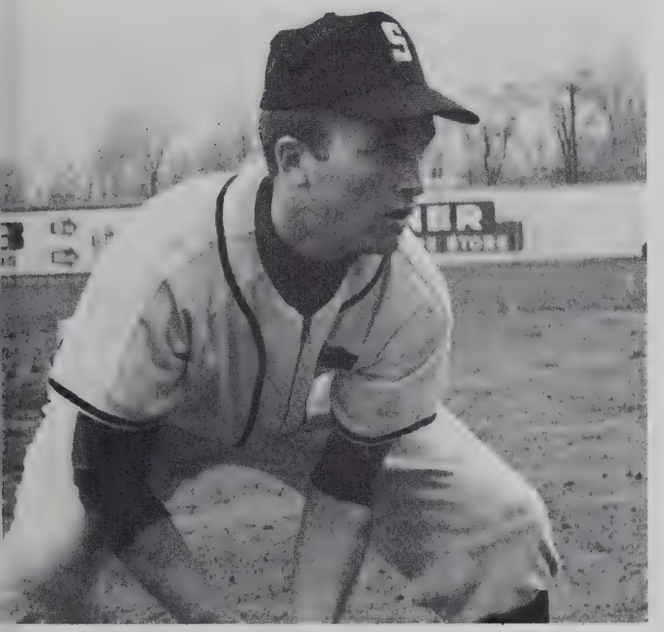
Baseball Team Places Second in Conference

Highly experienced Coach Wolfe obtained a victorious season and a second place in the ICC all conference play with a talented and enthusiastic diamond squad. As an overall record, the team caged nine wins and seven losses with one tie. Paul Gries and Larry Roesch were picked for all conference team and also tied for the conference batting title with .439 averages. Mike Harlam, Randy Miller, and Rich Edgerton were also named to the team.

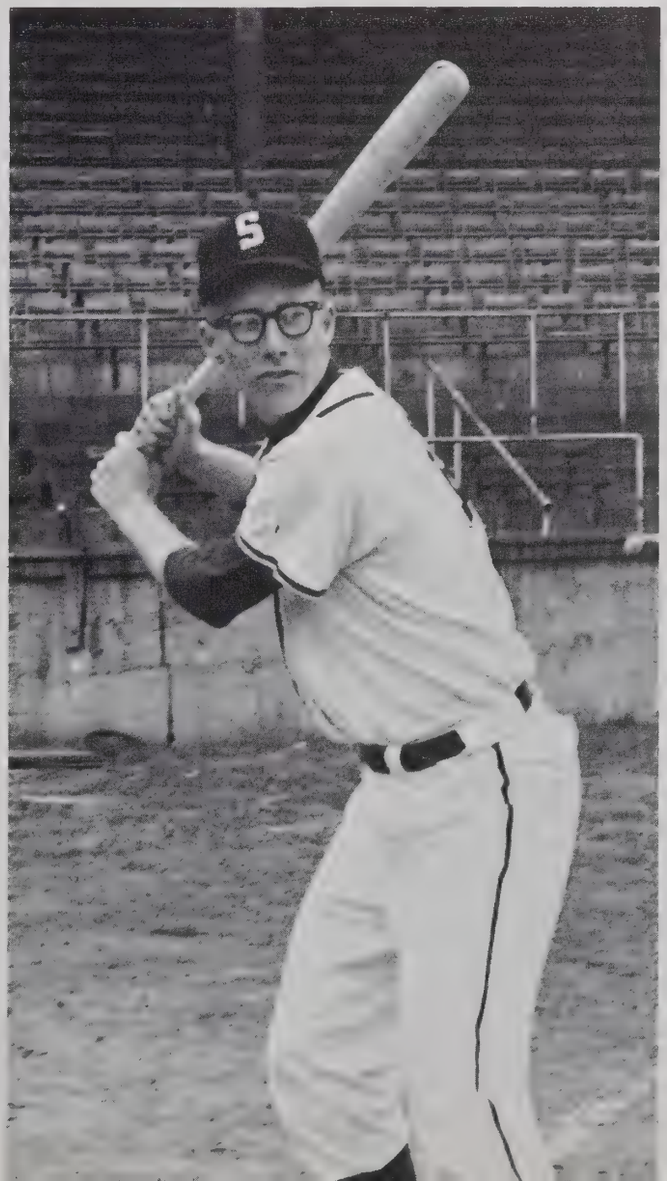
The Sycamores had an impressive mound corps headed by seniors Dan Lazar and John Penn who were signed by the Chicago White Sox and the Philadelphia Phillies respectively. Infield play was led by Paul Gries who was contracted by the Washington Senators at the end of the season. Paul was aided by outstanding second baseman Larry Roesch who also aided the Sycamore batting attack with over a .300 average. Randy Miller, also batting over a .300, added strength to the outfield.



Pitcher Bob Warren was an outstanding asset to the squad who put everything he had into each pitch.



Shortstop and ace hitter Paul Gries was quick to throw a man out at first base.



Randy Miller sported over a .300 batting average and helped ISU run away with the RBI title with 14 on record.

Sycamore Track Team Proved To Be Best Yet

The 1965 Track Team opened what was to be a truly outstanding season in April. The new track located west of the arena made possible the selection of ISU for host to both the ICC and the Big State meets. Popularity of the sport grew as the team proved how truly outstanding it was. Experienced team members in every phase of the sport prompted Coach Meyne to say at the first of the season that they would be "deeper and stronger" than they were last year. Throughout the season the Sycamores reinforced the truth of that statement.

The 440-yard relay team, consisting of M. Hanna, J. Nesbitt, W. Kelley, and L. Long, set records at many meets with their lowest time at :43.5 seconds.

VARSITY TRACK TEAM 1965: Front Row—K. Heston, H. Sonafrank, B. Barrett, J. White, M. Tyler, G. Rickard, V. Robinson, F. Joui, F. Draper. Second Row—W. Ney (Asst. Coach), M. Morris, P. Nixon, L. Terry Eberle, who owns almost every record in the state for shot put, also holds ISU's discus record.

MILE RELAY TEAM: H. Sonafrank, W. Kelley, L. Long, L. James.

ISU Won Big State Over Eight Other Entrants

ISU ran, jumped, and threw to an upset victory in the Big State, dumping the highly favored Notre Dame when 17 Sycamores placed in the meet—five of them in first places. Most of the field records fell and two meet records were established, one of those by Mike Hanna in the pole vault. Final team scores found Notre Dame second, Indiana University third, and Purdue fourth.

Pat Nixon set a new school and field mark in the high jump when he leaped 6'4¾", breaking his own previous record.

D. Hoffman and F. Bonebrake were considered two of the finest distance men in ISU's history.

Sycamores Took Little State and ICC Crown

At the time of the Big State ISU had won 19 consecutive dual meets and then went on to take the ICC crown and the Little State in overwhelming victories. Every meet through the season brought an onslaught of newly established records. Mike Hanna, Terry Eberle, and the 440-yard relay team consistently set stadium and meet records all over the state. By the end of the season, the team had truly fulfilled and surpassed the hopes of the coach and fans!

Coach Mehne stood by Mike Hanna who established new school, field, state and athletic records when he vaulted 15'9".

One of the top hurdlers was ISU's Gary Rickard who owns records in 120-yard high hurdles and 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

Golf Team Swung into Successful Year

A precision sport, golf at State has become a popular inter-collegiate sport as well as weekend pastime. Golf, although not a spectator sport, was followed closely by the student body. Competition was hard during the season but the year was a prosperous one. Experienced lettermen spurred the squad and promising underclassmen came into their glory.

The highlight of the year for the I Men is their annual banquet at which the year's accomplishments are discussed and awards in the different sports are awarded.

I Men Sport Results of Effort and Service

The five members of the all-conference football team proudly received their very well deserved awards.

The I Men at Indiana State University are a select group of sportsmen who have been awarded letters due to outstanding achievements in sports. They must meet the requirements of the various intercollegiate sports in order to receive this honor. This group of athletes meets once a month to discuss the business concerning the organization. They also work at all home games selling popcorn, candy, and cokes for the enjoyment of the fans.

Competition Rises Between State Men

Men's intramural sports program is one of the most popular of the extra-curricular activities. The program is sponsored by the Athletic Department and is designed to include a sport to interest and challenge everyone. The teams are composed of various campus organizations and sections of dormitories, and range from serious-minded competitors to those interested in pastime recreation.

Interest in intramural sports is extremely high and is continually growing. As the popularity and interest grows, so grows the program for it adds yet another facet to a well-rounded education.

ISU intramural bowling provided steep competition for the dorm and fraternity teams battling for first place honors.

As the girls go through the rigors of a practice game, they show their abilities on both offense and defense.

Basketball Was Integral Part of Program

Women's Basketball at ISU had many enthusiastic participants during the past year. The girls played two games away and two on their own court. Besides these games, the team traveled to various other Universities where they participated in "Sports Days." Under the able coaching of Miss Alpha Poulos, the team had an exciting and fulfilling season.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM: Front Row—R. Edmonds, J. Doty, K. Ellison, L. Kuhn, M. Doles, J. McClelland. Second Row—T. Sherrard, M. Shaffer, C. Herrmann, K. Marshall, C. Johnson, G. Tackitt, B. WOMEN'S GYMNASTIC TEAM: M. Kompier, C. Schechter, V. Wilson, K. Schneider, C. Thomas, P. Ogle, V. Fisher, M. Doyle, Mrs. Trieber.

Women Gymnasts Exhibited Champion Form

In their first year of competition the Women's Gymnastic Team gave exhibitions at regular conference colleges. The team boasted among its members the national champion in free exercise, Valerie Fisher. The women showed their abilities on the parallel bars, the rings, the uneven bars and the horses, representing ISU in grand style. The team was under the able direction of Mrs. Margit Trieber who has had years of experience in the field.

As a flashy finish to her routine, Margaret Doyle did a hand spring off the balance bar.

Women's Swimming Created Interest

Swimming as a part of the Women's Physical Education program provided exercise and relaxation for the participants. Although the women's swimming team had been discontinued, the sport was still popular and interest in it was high. Not only did the girls enjoy the rigorous "work-outs" in the pool, but they also found time to work together on synchronized formations. This was possible due to the fact that the pool remained open evenings and weekends.

Working together on form and precision, the swimmers exhibited their good timing and grace in the water. Individual practice as well as teamwork were required to produce controlled exercises.

Practicing the syncronization of the Australian crawl, the women practiced long hours for timing and coordination.

WRA Increased Sports Participation

Women's intramurals provided organized activities to women interested in physical recreation and exercise. Popular individual sports offered were badminton, bowling, ping pong and swimming. The team sports for women were volleyball, softball, and basketball. The various competition included residence halls, sororities and teams or individuals within the Women's Physical Education Department. At the end of the program an all-sports trophy was awarded to the group which had accumulated the highest number of points during the year.

Several games of badminton often were kept going at the same time in Women's Intramurals.

Girls realized that volleyball can be a strenuous sport, especially near the net.

The jump—as important to women's basketball as it is to men's —was a question of agility.

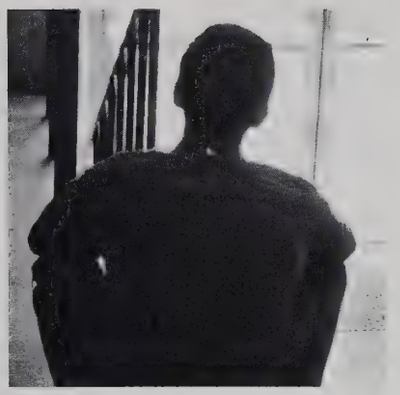
Sparkettes Entertain at Home and Away

Functioning within the Women's Physical Education Department, the ISU Sparkettes greeted a new director, Miss Marianne Maloney, as they opened their 1965-66 season.

In conjunction with the ISU Marching Sycamore Band and the Basketball Band, the group performed at all home football and basketball games and journeyed to Evansville and DePauw. The Sparkettes were also invited to perform at two of Rose Polytechnic Institute's home basketball games.

Thirty-one girls comprised the Sparkettes this season and captains for the 1965-66 year were Carole Benton and Margaret Doyle with Delana Haverty, Rae Carole Larsh, and Jane Anne Stultz as assistant captains.



ACADEMICS

To learn and to grow intellectually is the real goal for any college student. At ISU the opportunity for such accomplishments was fully realized. Students and faculty put their all into academically directed activities.

Dean Gemmeke contributed much to the welfare of ISU students.

The College of Arts and Sciences was set up as a separate school in 1962. This includes liberal arts, professional-vocational, and secondary education work of the first two years. During the past year the school has has had discussion with the administrators of a local college dealing with the possibility of co-operation especially in the area of engineering.

New departments which have been created here are Physics, Chemistry, Geography, Life Sciences, as well as Economics, History, Political Science, and Sociology.

A new development of the school was the organization of a new major in the field of Humanities, which involved the contributions of several other departments.

Mr. Kruge, Assistant to the Dean, helped to lighten Dean Gemmeke's burden.

Art Students had to put their imaginations to work.

Modern Art Took Over Department Last Year

Art Department offers its students various programs throughout the year. They deal with different aspects of the art field and the professional fields open to these students. Plans are underway for a complete revision of next year's curriculum.

Kappa Pi is the Art Honorary Society. It is designed to promote interest in art among college students of artistic inclinations, to raise the standards of artistic work, to stimulate higher scholarship, and to recognize potential and professional ability. Kappa Pi's projects this year included poster service, a Christmas party, and an exhibition arrangement for the Fine Arts Festival.

Dr. E. Porter was chairman of Art Department this past year.

Current Novels Studied in English Department

The department of English added two new courses to the curriculum—Oriental Literature and Linguistics. These courses were made available to students during the second semester, 1966.

The new Professional Journalism Society, Sigma Delta Chi, experienced its first year on campus. It received its National Charter on February 17, 1965 in a special installation ceremony.

One of the organizations within the English Department is contemporary Literature Club. Its purpose is to encourage careful reading and discussion of Contemporary Literature.

Alpha Phi Gamma is a journalism honorary which sponsors the Wabash Valley Press conference for all high schools in Indiana. Its purpose is to recognize individual ability and achievement in journalistic pursuits, to serve and promote the college through journalism.

Sigma Tau Delta English Fraternity tries to encourage mastery of written expression. Each Spring and Fall the Rectangle Magazine contains literary selections of members of the different chapters throughout the nation.

Chinese Course Added Distinction and Class

The purposes of the Latin Club were to stimulate interest beyond the classroom and to instill into the members an appreciation of Latin. Latin Clubbers held their second annual Roman Banquet in November.

Eta Sigma Phi, classical language honorary, developed and promoted interest in classical studying of Latin language and culture. The honorary sold Christmas cards, attended the national convention in Buffalo, New York, and participated with Latin Club in Christmas caroling and a booth for the Fine Arts Festival depicting Roman life.

The Foreign Language department, under the chairmanship of Dr. Louis Curcio, added more sections of closed circuit television teaching and also more new graduate courses. The department was pleased to offer a new course in elementary Chinese for the year 1965-66.

Language laboratories were a great asset to those students.

Dr. Curcio was in charge of the foreign languages.

Spanish Club members worked to improve diction and to become acquainted with Spanish life, customs, and history. Activities of this past year included "Celebration of Columbus Day," and a Christmas party in the Spanish Tradition.

The purpose of Le Cercle Francais was to give students a greater insight into the French language and culture. Social activities included a Christmas party and a party with the French Club members of another University. They also provided a booth for the Fine Arts Festival.

German Club, Der Deutsche Verin, tried to acquaint students with the German language and customs. The club sponsored a gift certificate raffle and held a Poetry Recitation Contest. Activities included a Halloween party with St. Mary's German Club and a spring picnic.

Home Economics Taught More Efficient Living

Family economics and home management were added to the Home Economics program this year. New programs stressing wage-earning occupations and the initiation of an interdisciplinary Family Life Institute also highlighted this past year. Significant activities of the Home Economics Department were an interdisciplinary family finance workshop, the organization of interior design and student dietetic clubs, and a Travel study course for the summer 1966.

Phi Upsilon Omicron serves to advance home economics profession and to become more professional and effective leaders. Members sponsored scholarship teas, a fruitcake sale, helped with Founders' Day, and worked with the Juvenile Center and Public Housing Authority.

Dr. Lee led the girls in the Home Economics Department.

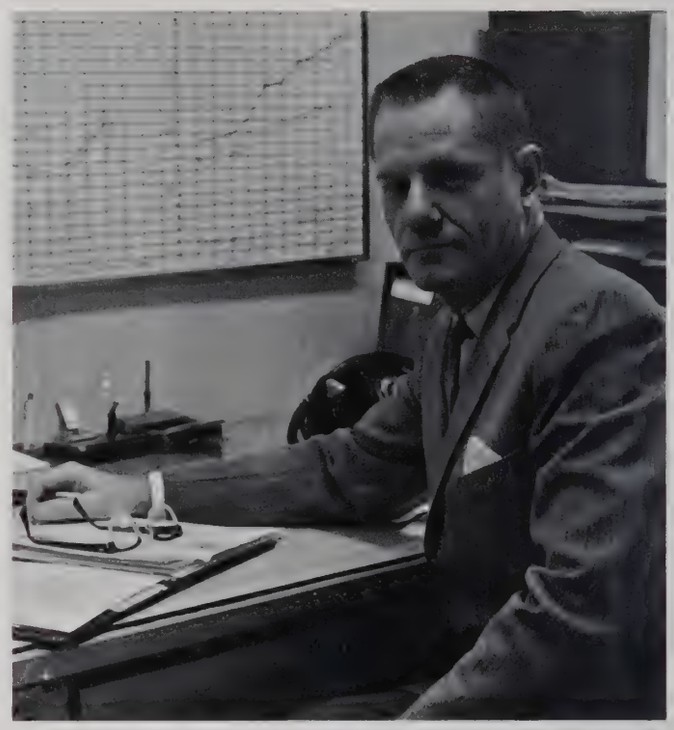
Home Economics' facilities were adequate for its students.

Industrial Education Studied the Crafts

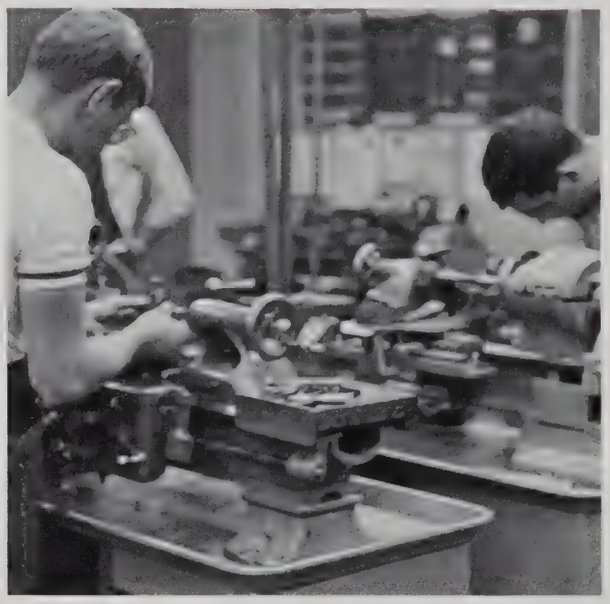
The Department was about to reach capacity last year as it was experiencing such rapid growth. An annex was created with a laboratory classroom providing more office space. Plans were in progress for a revision in the curriculum in the Industrial Education Department from traditional manufacture instruction, industrial communication, and service.

The purpose of the Industrial Education Club is to better acquaint its students with their particular field of interest. An opportunity to obtain a better understanding of materials used today and the vital role employees play in our nation's productivity was provided by a field trip to Innland Steel.

Objectives of Epsilon Pi Tau are research, service, and prestige. Epsilon Pi Tau make appropriations annually for a Christmas Basket for a needy family. Other of their activities included a Homecoming Luncheon and a banquet in the Spring. Epsilon Pi Tau and Industrial Education Club jointly made a Field Trip to Chevy Corvette in St. Louis.



Dr. John supervised the Industrial Education Department.



Students had to work industriously at the machines.

It was no problem for the students to keep busy in shop.

Two and Two Equal Three Point Nine by IBM

Dr. Moore handled various affairs in the Math Department.

The Mathematics Department developed two new special areas in Computer Science and Probability and Statistics, as well as adding two new faculty members to their staff.

Also, exceptional students in Mathematics were eligible to earn as many as eighteen hours of credit toward their degree in a Mathematics Honors Program. Top students were able to work toward undergraduate assistantship positions, in which they aided the instructors with paper grading, class instruction, etc.

The department was fortunate to receive new headquarters in Holmstedt Hall, newly constructed classroom and office building, which also housed three math laboratories—a computer laboratory, a statistics laboratory, and a mathematics education laboratory.

Instructors made use of the podium and blackboard in class.

Library Students Strove To Serve the Public

Library Science, the newest member of the faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences, was designated a department within the College in 1965. The primary program of the department is the preparation of elementary and secondary school librarians. The department seeks to prepare the librarian as an information specialist working with books, periodicals, films, recordings, and a multitude of other publications.

Alpha Beta Alpha was organized to further the professional knowledge of its members. It also seeks to bring about a closer relationship between students and librarians, to serve as a recruiting agency for librarianship, and to promote fellowship.

Catching up with recent news sometimes overshadowed studying.

Library Staff strove to fill the demands of the students.

Music Vibrated Through the Halls and Around the Campus

This year the Music Department worked both to provide a rewarding program for training students of music and to serve as a major source of entertainment to the entire student body. The primary purpose of the department was to prepare musicians to perform, conduct, and teach music.

Sigma Alpha Iota set its goal at advancing the highest standards of musicianship, scholarship, and leadership through study, performance, integrity, and initiative. Sigma Alpha Iota participated in campus and community affairs, singing at meetings and providing music to those who desired it, such as the children's ward of Union Hospital.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia sought to advance the cause of music in America, to foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of music students, and to develop true fraternal spirit among its members, encouraging loyalty to the University. Sinfonia scheduled a fall dance, a composition contest, a jazz concert, and a spring dance. It also sponsored the annual Songfest and performed at various functions throughout the year.

Dr. Barnes was chairman of the Music Department last year.

Ed Lucas displayed his talent in his show, "Sights and Sounds."

Glee Clubs' Melodious Voices Filled the Air

Women's Glee Club was a welcome addition to the ISU campus.

Men's Glee Club performed for several community groups this past year.

Concert Choir presented programs of choral masterworks this past year for the ISU campus and the community.

"Choirs" Sounded Out the Music of Tomorrow

The Women's and Men's Glee Clubs sought to establish an outlet for students interested in music who were non-majors. Performances were composed of light musical selections. Members went on a spring tour which was culminated by a Home Concert and performed for Tri Kappa Sorority.

The main goal of the Concert Choir was to present programs of outstanding choral masterwork to students, faculty and community. Students and faculty members attended the IMEA Convention in the fall, and the Choir presented Christmas and Spring concerts, and went on tour in the Spring.

Objectives of the ISU Brass Choir included the formal study of the larger forms of brass choir literature and limited study of brass band publications. This year, the 29 members visited Indiana high schools on their Annual Educational Concert Tour, presented half of the Annual Christmas Vesper Concert, and gave two formal concerts in the spring on campus.

Brass Choir, under Mr. Owen's direction, performed brass concerts this past academic year.

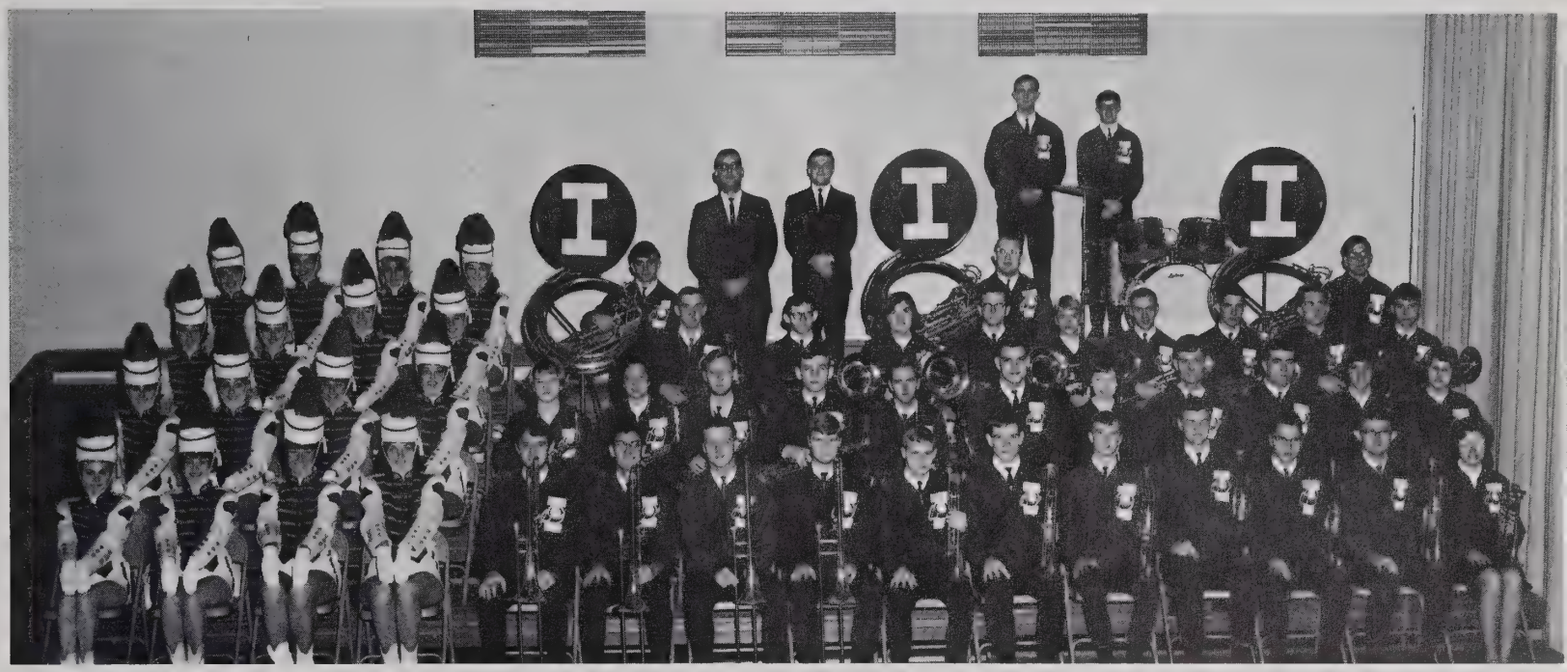
Selective Vocal Groups Presented Unique Music

Organizational purposes of the University Opera, under the direction of Dr. Allan Lehl, were to present music theater productions, especially legitimate opera. "Amahl and the Night Visitors," a Christmas opera by Gian-Carlo Menotti, was presented by the members of the Opera Workshop. A spring opera was also performed by the group in early April.

The specialty of the Madrigal Singers was to perform secular vocal music of the sixteenth century. Approximately 25 programs are presented each year, including an annual 30-minute T.V. broadcast during the Christmas season. The singers go on tour annually in the spring.

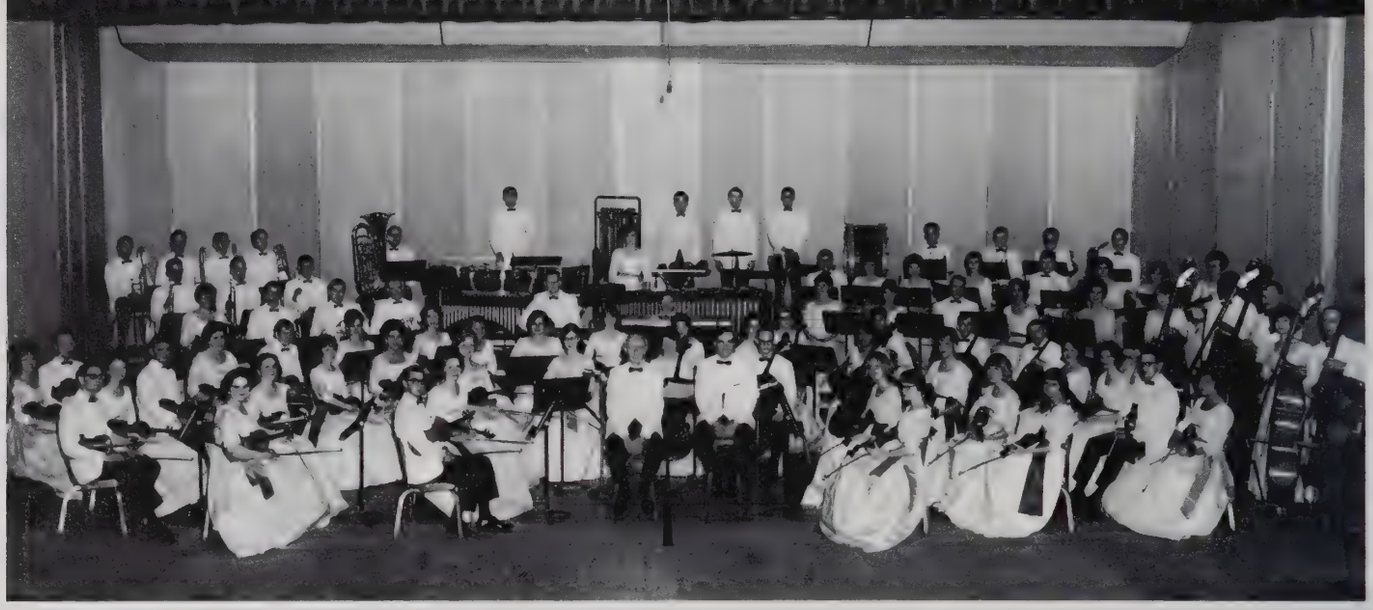
The cast of "Amahl and the Night Visitors," presented by the Opera Workshop, "took five" to discuss problems they encountered during the rehearsals.



Pep Band entertained at basketball games, pep rallies, and Homecoming.

Marching and Pep Bands Highlighted Athletics

The Marching Band and Sparkettes presented shows for football games and parades.



Symphony Orchestra performed classical and contemporary selections.

Symphony Provided Music for ISU and Terre Haute

The University Symphony Orchestra this year sought to provide musical education and entertainment for the entire university and community. In November, they presented a program for the Indiana Music Educator's State Convention in Indianapolis and an all-Wagner Concert was performed in the Tilson Music Hall. In the Spring, an annual guest conductor program was performed with Robert Russell Bennett, internationally-known composer, serving as guest conductor.

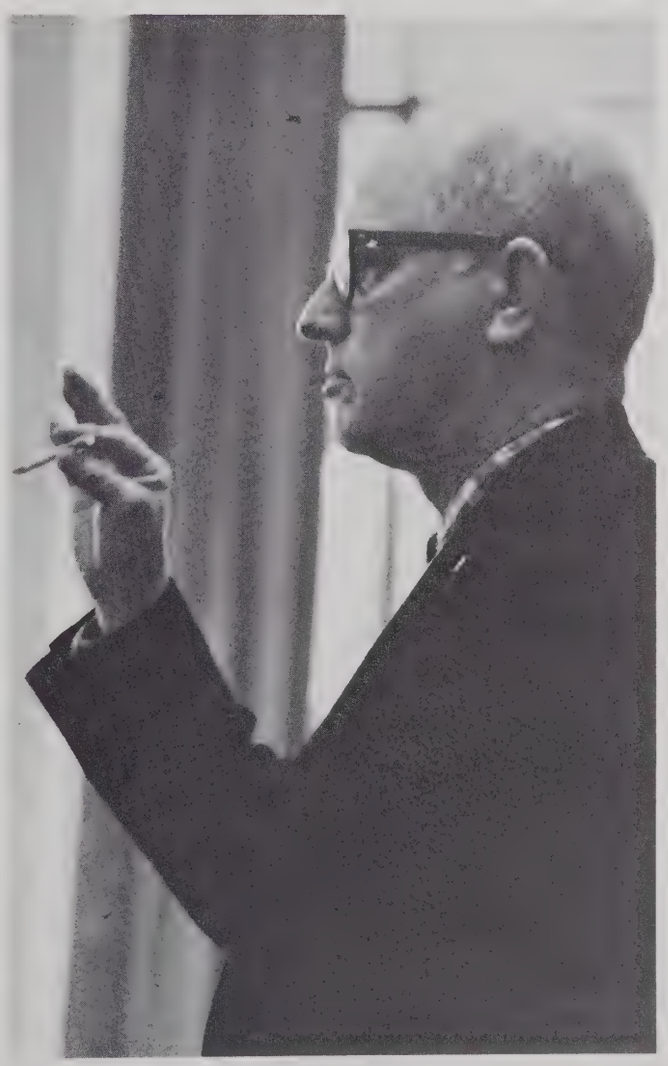
Symphonic Band provided musical entertainment for ISU and Terre Haute.

Most philosophizing went on outside the classroom by Dr. Hipple, chairman of the Philosophy-Humanities Department.

New Ideas Opened for Students' Endeavors

The Humanities Department now has a complete program for majors and minors, and a program for teaching minors is to be introduced to us next year. Also, a set of courses of Art History, in conjunction with the Art Department, was set up. One new faculty member joined the Staff of the Department.

The Philosophy department offered a complete curriculum to ISU students this year consisting of over 23 courses, mostly on the graduate level. Upper division courses were split into two divisions, one devoted to source readings in history of philosophy and the other dealing with readings of actual philosophy.

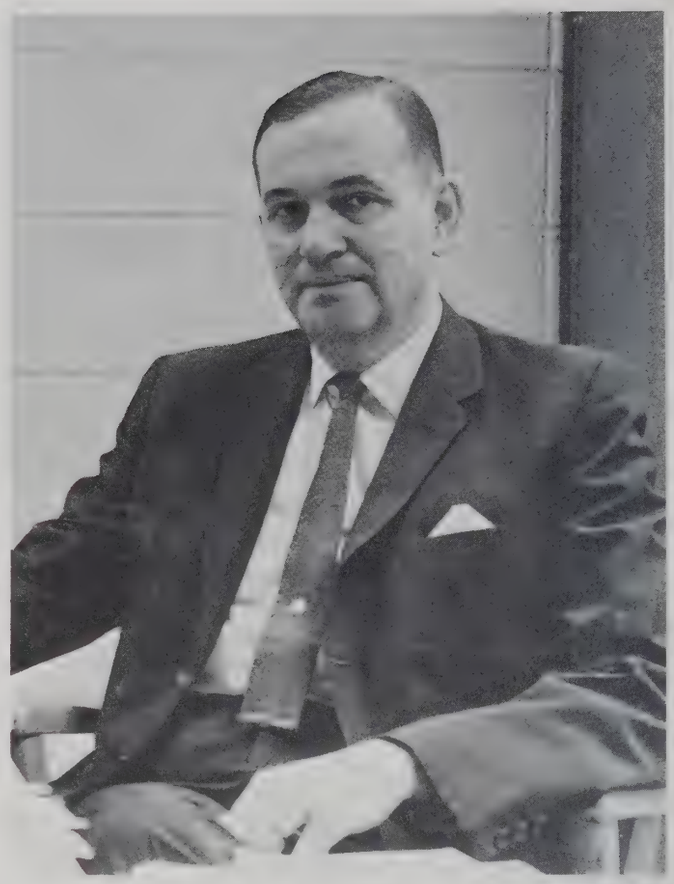


Dr. Dyche emphasized his point with the aid of his cigarette.

New Science Equipment Improved Laboratories

Omega Alpha Delta, science honorary, strove to promote out-of-class interest in science for students demonstrating superior ability in that field. Its activities included a trip to Argonne National Laboratories in Chicago, a picnic in the spring, and aiding in the Science Fair in the spring.

The Division of science, under the directorship of Dr. William Hopp, has split itself into five different departments under five different chairmen. The division was in the definitive stage of adding to the Science Building. More graduate, master's work and Ph. D. programs were planned by the Division of Science for the future.



Dr. Hopp was divisional chairman in the Science Department.

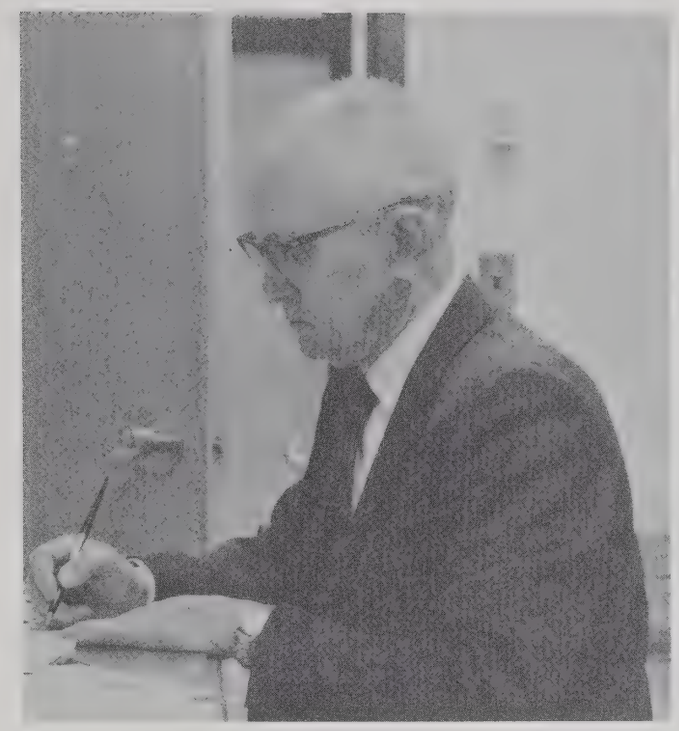
In the faculty dining room instructors took a break for lunch.

Social Science Made into Four Departments

The Division of Social Science was changed into four departments last year: Economics, History, Political Science and Sociology. Also developing were three area studies: Russian, Latin-American, and Asian. It was the inter-disciplinary meaning to give students a comprehensive study of these areas both geographically and culturally.

One of the aims of Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary for social studies was, to inspire service to humanity. Some of the activities the members participated in this past year were the annual Lecture in the spring with a guest speaker and the selection of delegates for the Principia College Conference.



Dr. Anthony was the chairman of the Division of Social Science in charge of the four new departments.

Theatre Established a Costume Department

Dr. Morgan worked as chairman of the Speech and Theatre Department serving students and community.

The department of Speech and Theatre strove to further the aims of those students pursuing either of these fields.

The area of speech tried to train individuals to speak more effectively. Opportunities were afforded the students for public speaking, radio and television announcing, and debate. Last year the time was changed for the college FM radio station to the evening so more people would have a chance to listen to it.

New in the area of theatre last year was the development of a costume department. Classes were offered to learn about costuming as a professional costumer was on the staff.

Free time was often interrupted by phone calls from students and various other persons.

Children's Theatre Worked Together with ISU

The Sycamore Players provided an example for the children seriously interested in theatre to follow.

Children displayed their talents in their production of "The Princess Who Had to be Spanked."

ISU students worked with Children's Theatre to present some of their productions.

Sycamore Players Presented Five Performances

The Sycamore Players were going through a rejuvenation last year: they were introducing into the constitution new conditions for attaining and sustaining membership. New projects undertaken by the Sycamore Players were visiting other plays by other universities, scholarships were set up, and work crews were established for the betterment of theatre facilities. Through the new Sycamore Players a new program of experimental theatre was set up for those interested in any phase of theatre.

Theta Alpha Phi was an honorary fraternity for advancement of dramatics or activities. Once a month they sponsored a seminar entitled "Theatre on top." Also included among their activities was a luncheon every two weeks.

"Everyman," the last performance of the school year, was a morality play.

The play "Mary, Mary" was a comedy presented by the Sycamore Players this past year.

The emperor, Androcles, and the lion were the main characters in one of last years performances.

Speech Union tried to promote intelligent deliberation of public issues and provided speech experiences for members and other ISU students. Activities engaged in last year to further these objectives were an Annual Committee Hearing and Symposium on the Intercollegiate Debate Topic, a debate tournament, and a Demonstration debate with Cambridge University of England. Speech Union also sponsored the High School Speech Festival and Debate Tournament.

Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha was a professional honorary for forensic students that had as its goal the encouragement of forensic activity on a national level. In April last year a national tournament was held at Reno, Nevada in three divisions of debate, and individual events.

Dr. Steinbaugh, chairman of the Business Department, encouraged those pursuing this field.

The School of Business has loaned Dr. James Lane to the Wabash Valley Interstate Commission to make a research study (for next semester and next summer) for the economic impact of service level waterway. This is not only a distinct honor to him but should provide valuable economic information for the whole area.

Establishment of a 5 year sequence survey undertaken by the Bureau of Research for the study of a brand of purchasing in the Wabash Valley broadcasting area.

The School has added over 300 new majors and three new faculty members. Next year will see five new faculty members and three new replacements.

School of Education Helps Future Teachers

Dr. Cobb in the School of Education was of service to those in the field of teaching.

The School of Education, organized only four years ago, sought to guide students in the teaching profession through consultation with school systems throughout the state. Besides conducting surveys and research to better the educational system on the ISU campus, instruction was offered at all levels, both on and off campus and through workshops, correspondence courses, conferences, etc.

The school also offered graduate work to teachers wishing to earn graduate degrees and certification. This was done in cooperation with other academic units.

There was an increasing number of courses offered on television.

These men are directing one of the various TV courses.

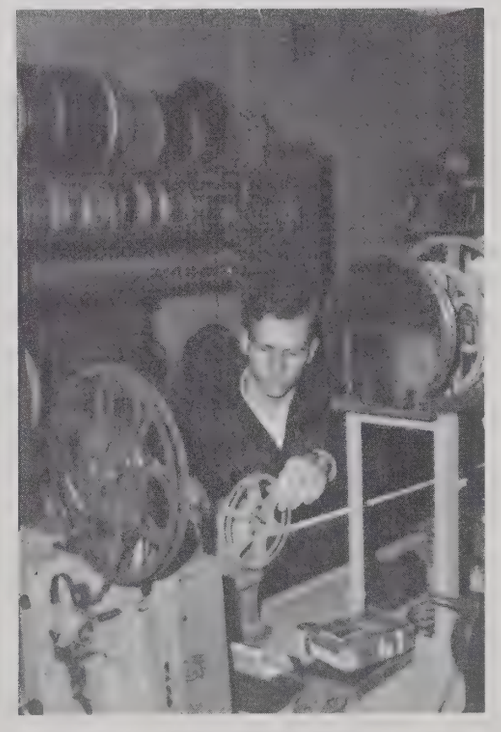
Audio-Visual Center Provided Class Aids

In the Audio-Visual Center, a crew of photographers had been busy photographing the football and basketball games, taking ID photographs of students, and doing public relations photographs such as ones of gifts of checks for scholarships. The photography crew worked full time to produce a film on the one room country schoolhouse and another film on the supervisory roles with student teachers at ISU. The Campus Service division of A-V had set up projection and handled thousands of motion pictures for students.

Much time and effort had gone into the furnishing and the planning for the use of the new telemation rooms in Holmstedt Hall.

Mr. McDougal was busy this past year as chairman of Audio-Visual Center.

Tedious paper work was involved in the students' program.



Working with tapes was one aspect of the department.

Education-Psychology Department Offered PH.D.

The department of Education and Psychology offered professional undergraduate and graduate work leading to certification of elementary and secondary teachers, administrators, guidance specialists, and other school services personnel.

For years the department has offered professional work leading to various degrees. This year for the first time, however, the department is offering work leading to the Ph.D. degree in two major areas—Elementary Education and Guidance and Psychological Services.

The building housing the department has been renamed Stalker Hall in honor of Professor Francis Stalker who was for many years chairman of the department.

Dr. Swalls kept busy as Chairman of the Psychology Department this past year.

Teaching involved class participation and lecturing.

Training rats was part of the curriculum in Experimental Psychology.

Lab School Was an Example of Modern Learning

Dr. Lautenschlager served as principal of Lab School in charge of students in all the grades.

Children listened eagerly to stories and enjoyed the pictures.

College students observed classes in the Lab school to enrich their knowledge of teaching practices.

The Laboratory School provided laboratory experiences for college students through observation and participation with children in Nursery School through seniors in Senior High School. More than 10,000 hours of college student time per semester was spent working with children in the Laboratory School. Over 800 students attended classes in nursery, kindergarten, and grades one through twelve at the school under approximately 60 faculty members.

Children kept occupied with activities of their own.

Special Education

Aided the Exceptional

The Special Education Department offered an opportunity for students to become proficient speech and hearing therapists and teachers of classes for exceptional children. Dealing with emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped children was also the subject of study and instruction. New courses offered were "Organic Disorders of Speech and Language," a "Seminar in Aphasia and Orientation to Allied Medical Professions," and "The Education of Slow Learning Children."

Chairman of the Special Education Department, Dr. Porter, helped students and patients both this past year.

Group sessions could be more rewarding than private instructions.

Individual therapy was administered to children of all ages.

ISU's new backfield coach taught PE class to college men.

Men's PE Department Added to HPER School

The School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, in its first year of operation as a school, made great strides toward "total" contribution to the University and to the Profession. Phi Epsilon Kappa, professional men's honorary fraternity in Health, Physical Education and Recreation, installed its Beta Tau chapter on this campus this past year. Two more organizations, Spartan Club and the Swim Club, were at ISU and composed of undergraduate majors in men's physical education.

Dr. Marks was Dean of the Administrative Council for the new HPER School.

ISU Student Learned to Care for Sick

The School of Nursing provided a four-year curriculum designed to prepare students for beginning a professional nursing career.

Graduates of the Indiana State School of Nursing received a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in nursing. During their undergraduate career, they received laboratory practice in all phases of nursing.

Professional nursing was recognized as a vital social force and a component of the comprehensive health services which have as their goal the achievement of health with optimum physical, emotional, mental and social living.

The primary objective of the School was to recognize human needs as a basis of behavior.

The nursing faculty took time off to relax between classes.

Faculty meetings were needed to discuss the problems at hand.

Nurses were taught how to take proper care of the bedridden.

Students were given practical experience using doll dummies.

Graduate School Offered a Choice of Programs

The Graduate Committee determined policies and regulations governing graduate work and these were in turn administered by the dean and the assistant dean.

The program included curricula for elementary and secondary school teachers, for students desiring to major in the various academic fields, for school service personnel and administrators, and for college teachers and research workers.

Indiana State University offered graduate programs leading to the Master of Arts and Master of Science degrees, the Master of Business Administration Degree, the Advanced Degree in Education, the Doctor of Education Degree (in cooperation with Indiana University), and the Doctor of Philosophy Degree.

Dr. Engbretson channeled learning as Chairman of the Graduate School.

Graduate students participated in one of numerous seminars.

Seminars were conducted for graduate students the same as classes were for undergraduates.

Graduate students taught Psychology classes this past year.

Library Worked in Best Interests of Students

Indiana State University's Library was renamed Cunningham Memorial Library this past year. Last year, a new addition to the library was the Early American Imprints 1639-1820. These were in microprint form and included all known books, pamphlets, and brochures published in the United States during that time. Eighteen colonial newspapers were purchased in microprint form.

The Xerox photo copy machine was another new addition last year and was a great aid to both students and faculty.

The librarians reshelved reference books, periodicals, and others.

Checking out books was one of the librarians' many tasks.

Students studied before and after classes in the reading room.

Mr. Rude, director of the Library, had conferences added on to his busy schedule.

Students busy with schoolwork took advantage of the library.

The stacks provided a quiet place for students to study and concentrate.

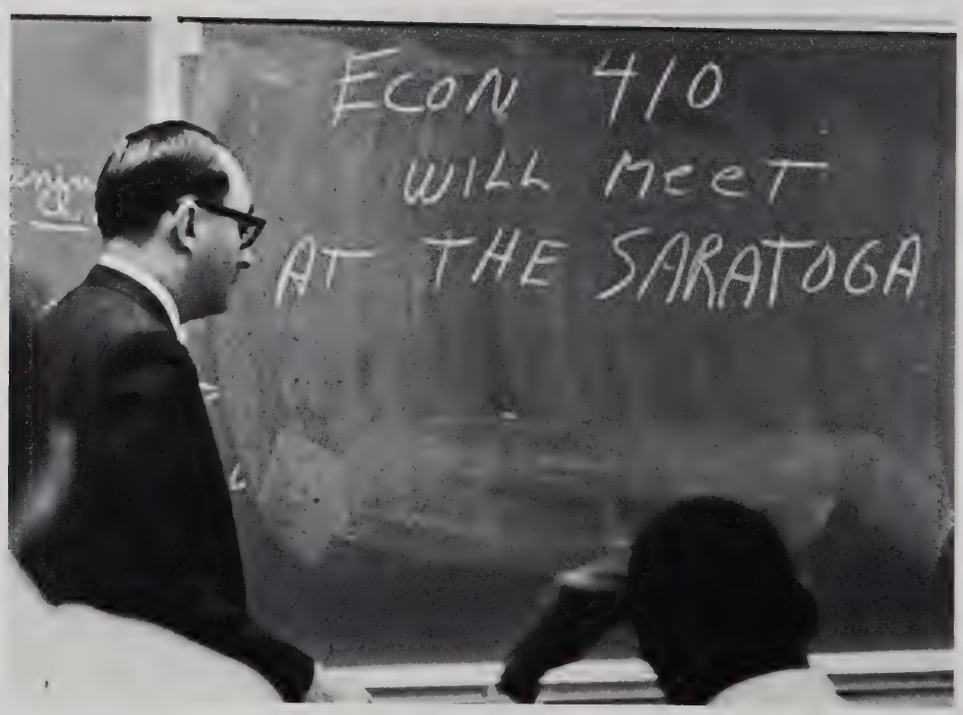
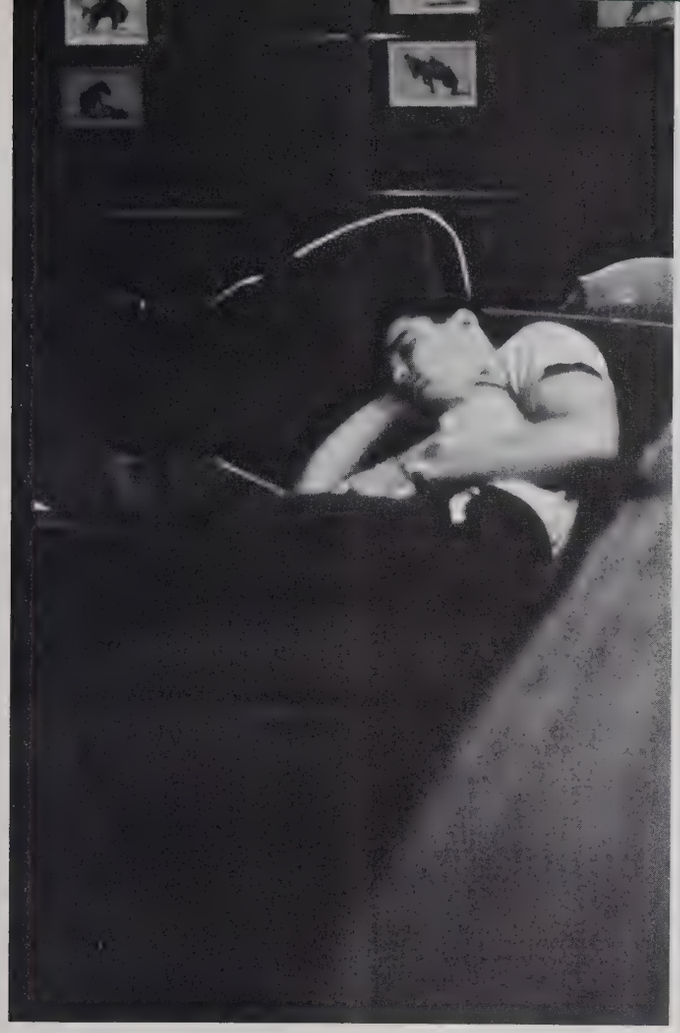
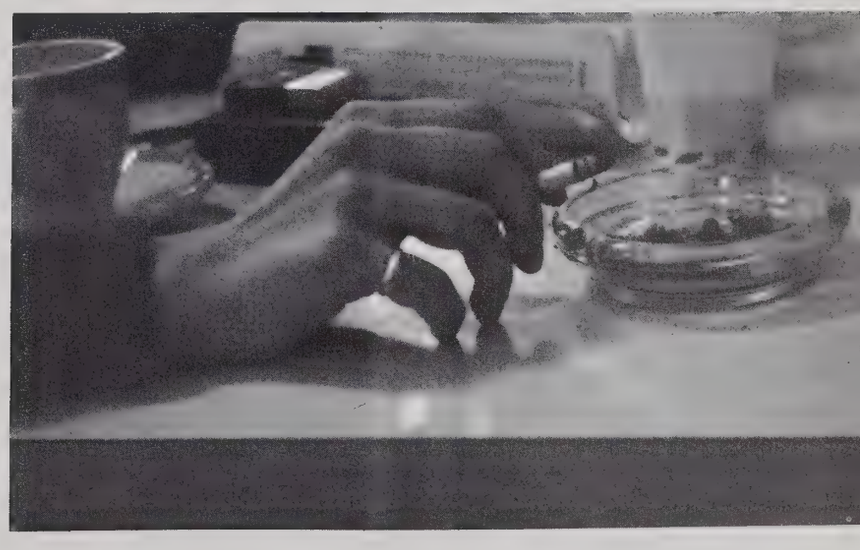
Classes were interesting for some students while others just couldn't be bothered. During the Spring some classes were held outside, while others . . .





Between classes ISU students found time for diversions like sleeping, catching a quick smoke, or talking over problems . . .



Washing, studying, dancing and drinking proved to be the most popular pastimes for State students after a rough day at the campus.

ATΠ

Before Evansville basketball game, at 4:30 p.m., ardent backers were lined-up for a front row seat.

After the game the spirits of the fans seemed a little dampened.

People in crowds and by themselves displayed the mood of the university and reflected the changing times—day to day and month to month . . .

People are the most important part of any university. People reflected the meanings of school and of what is to come. Each person gave something of himself . . .

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

For all the extra effort and kind consideration, the 1966 Sycamore staff would like to express its deepest appreciation to Dr. John Boyd, yearbook adviser and to his secretary, Hester Branson. To Bob Cavanagh, Fred Plocher, and Bob Blanton, American Yearbook representatives, we give our whole-hearted thank-you for being there with a solution to all problems, even the mail. And to others: Kenneth and Willard Martin, Garlan Cooper, Craig Aldridge, the AV-Center, and all the profs whose classes we've cut so much, we owe this book. This, for better or for worse, is the Sycamore. Would you believe a tree?
